The print of the first building constructed on the Murray State campus has been released as a Kentucky bicentennial year fund raising project by the University's Alumni Association.

'1984 May Arrive Early' — Marchetti

By MIKE BRANDON
Murray Ledger & Times Staff Writer
Victor Marchetti, a former agent of the Central Intelligence Agency, told a small crowd at Murray State University Tuesday night "that 1984 may arrive a bit early."

The 14-year veteran of the secret organization said the American public is "totally ignorant about the CIA and that an uninformed public can be misled and propagandized."

Marchetti's lecture was the fifth in a series of eight this year at Murray State. The lecture series will conclude in late April with the annual Insight Series.

Insight will begin April 22 with either James Buckley or James Kilpatrick as the featured speaker. On April 23, moderate Senator Edmund Muskie of Maine will speak and the series will end on April 24 with a lecture from former college instructor and outspoken Communist Angela Davis.

Marchetti said the CIA is a very dangerous organization and has been used many times to undermine foreign governments.

"The CIA is primarily concerned with cropping out regimes and interfering in internal affairs of other countries," said Marchetti, who resigned the agency in 1969.

"They do it not for national interest but for the interests to big business, big labor and the bankers in New York."

Most of Marchetti's address came out of context from his latest book, "The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence," the third-leading bestseller in America at the present time.

In a press conference prior to his 8 p. m. Lovett auditorium appearance, Marchetti said the CIA went over the manuscript of his book and returned it with 339 deletions, made allegedly for reasons of national security.

A federal judge ruled that only 27 of the deletions were justified but the CIA has filed a countersuit and the case is still in the courts.

"I can not discuss what the deletions are about," Marchetti told members of the press, when asked to go into detail about the material the CIA wanted omitted from the book.

Former CIA Agent Victor Marchetti

"I'm under a court order to keep it confidential. Anything I write now, either fiction or non-fiction, has to be reviewed by the CIA. I speak at my own peril."

"They will have a transcript of this press conference in addition to the lecture tonight," Marchetti said.

At both the press conference and the lecture, the first question asked him was about the assassination of the late President John F. Kennedy.

"My personal opinion is the CIA was not involved as an agency. That's not to say there weren't some individuals who acted on their own.

"The reason I don't believe the CIA was involved was because the director at that time, John McComb, was an adorer of Kennedy. Kennedy was well-liked by the CIA with the exception of a small group of Bay of Pigs officers but I don't think they had the guts to conspire in an assassination plot."

National security has long been a term thrown up by the CIA in an effort to hide its attempts at undermining other foreign governments, accused Marchetti.

"What will we do to the national security by investigating the CIA? They try to say its a communist conspiracy to investigate the CIA. I don't know where they get the gall to spread such rumors."

"The Laotians knew they were being bombed. The Chileans knew they were being overthrown. Only you didn't know."

Marchetti said the CIA is presently working on a new "secrecy law" and if it becomes a reality, it would "gag" members of the Armed Forces and would keep the American public in the dark.

"We've got to guard against it or 1984 will arrive a little early," Marchetti said, in ending his speech.

1984, a popular book written by George Orwell, dealt with many of the things Marchetti discussed and the crowd was hushed for most of the lecture as they seemed to realize that "Big Brother" might have been watching the entire program.

Margaret Trevathan, Outstanding Kentucky Librarian Nominee, At Ease With Everyone

Eligibility For Grants Is Broadened

Eligibility for the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG) Program is to be broadened to include entering freshmen, freshmen, sophomore, and junior students at Murray State University for the 1975-76 school year.

Johnny McDougal, director of student financial aid on the campus, said applications for BEOG awards should be filed immediately.

Funded by the U. S. Office of Education and administered by the university's Student Financial Aid Office, the BEOG program provides non-repayable awards of $50 to $1,000 for the year.

McDougal said students who began college after April 1, 1973, may be eligible for a BEOG award. He added that the BEOG application should be completed and submitted to the processing agency even if other types of financial aid (loans, other grants or student employment) have been requested for the next school year.

Eligibility is determined by a federal formula — applied to all students throughout the country — which measures the ability of the student and the family to meet educational expenses. Students eligible for assistance are paid by the Student Financial Aid Office at registration time.

McDougal emphasized that since program eligibility has been expanded for 1975-76, students should complete the 1975-76 BEOG forms, even though they were ineligible on previous applications.

Additional information and BEOG applications are available in the Student Financial Aid Office, Administration Building, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071.

So says the official form submitted by the library trustees, who have nominated Mrs. Trevathan for Outstanding Kentucky Librarian 1975, an honor to be announced during the spring conference of the Kentucky Library Association, April 10-12.

Since being appointed a trustee in 1958, Mrs. Trevathan has served as volunteer and bookmobile driver, and was appointed librarian in 1965. Following her appointment the county library tax, defeated twice previously, was passed, funding the construction of the present building.

A librarian who goes out into the county, Mrs. Trevathan speaks to civic clubs and organizations about the library, and presents a weekly television show, a weekly radio show and a daily radio show as well as submitting several articles and photos concerning library activities to this newspaper regularly.

Over 6 Million Packs Of Smokes Burned Here

Just about 10 years have passed since the U. S. Surgeon General issued the warning that cigarette smoking was injurious to health.

Since then there have been a number of other reports linking cigarettes with cancer, heart disease and other ailments. To what extent has this moved Calloway County residents to change their smoking habits? How much are local people smoking these days compared with people in other areas?

Although many of them have given up the habit completely or are smoking less than they did in former years, according to the statistics, others have taken up smoking for the first time. The newcomers, mostly teen-agers, have offset the gains that would otherwise have been achieved.

The facts and figures are based upon nationwide surveys made by the Department of Agriculture, the Tobacco Tax Council and others.

In Calloway County, according to a breakdown of these findings, an estimated 6,372,000 packs of cigarettes were smoked in the past year.

Related to the local population over age 18, this was equivalent to 321 packs per person.

In some sections of the country the rate of consumption was much greater than this and, in other sections, smaller.

Nationally, the average rate for the over-18 population was approximately 214 packs per capita. In the East South Central States it was 209.

The 214 national rate represented an increase of about five packs per person since 1973. It is the third consecutive year in which there has been a rise, states the Agriculture Department.

We are now within two percent of the record 217 packs per capita that were consumed ten years ago, when the Surgeon General's announcement was made. Since then, after an initial drop, it has been going up.

Although the cost of smoking has been increasing, due to inflation and higher taxes, that fact appears to have had little effect on consumption.

In Calloway County, an estimated $2,122,000 was spent last year for cigarettes. It was at the rate of $106.90 per smoker.

Local Children Urged To Follow Safety Rules

Children in the Murray and Calloway County school systems are being urged to observe a set of six safety rules as part of the annual school safety program of the Calloway County Easter Seal campaign.

Materials prepared by the Easter Seal Society for distribution to school children at the elementary, middle and secondary school levels lists these points:

—Look both ways before crossing the street, and cross only at the corner.
—Ride your bike only where it is safe — obey traffic laws.

—Remove skates, wagons and other toys from walkways and stairways so others will not trip and fall.

—Help keep knives, scissors, medicines and poisons away from little children.

—Report safety hazards to your parents and teacher.

—Be careful — and help your family be careful.

Charlie Lassiter, director of pupil personnel for Calloway County schools, is serving as school safety chairman in the drive which ends Easter Sunday, March 30.

The program is one phase of the campaign that has also included a door-to-door canvass, roadblocks, coin collection containers in community businesses, and solicitation of local merchants, as well as individual donations.

Dr. Lloyd P. Jacks, associate professor of agriculture at Murray State University, is the county Easter Seal chairman for the fourth successive year. Fran Curci, head football coach at the University of Kentucky, is the Kentucky state chairman.

The 52-year-old Kentucky Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., provides a variety of services — including therapies, special education, medical care, recreation and camping, hearing and speech services, hospitalization, and information — to Kentuckians each year.

Harbison said, "Bob Hodges has exhibited the capabilities of handling increased responsibilities in the bureau, and secretary Roberts and I feel strongly that he will provide effective leadership for the district."

Since Feb. 1971, Hodges has been assistant director in the division of construction. He previously spent four years in Paducah (1965-69) as principal assistant to the district engineer for construction.

Mobile Home Gutted In Fire Today

A fire of unknown origin destroyed the mobile home of Doug Noel at Shady Oaks Trailer Park on Hwy. 121 early this morning.

Three units and 17 men of the Calloway County Fire-Rescue Squad responded to the call at 6:50 a. m. and said the trailer was a total loss.

No one was reported at home at the time of the blaze and no injuries were reported.

Mrs. Peggy Williams, center, 1975 membership chairman for the Calloway County Association for Retarded Children, distributes new brochures to committee members, Mrs. Lowell Palmer, left, and Mrs. Boyd Norsworthy, right, to be circulated to citizens in the county and displayed at the Comprehensive Care Center at 702 Main Street.

Association For Retarded Children's Drive Underway

Fred Phillips, president of the Calloway County Association for Retarded children has announced that Mrs. Peggy Williams has been appointed chairman of the 1975 membership campaign.

The local membership drive is in conjunction with approximately 1500 affiliated units of the National Association for Retarded Citizens, all involved simultaneously in seeking members to aid in programs of mental retardation research, prevention, education and services. The annual membership fee is five dollars.

"Mental retardation is the number one health problem among children today. An estimated three per cent of our population, or more than 6 million individuals are believed to be mentally retarded. There's a big — and satisfying — job to be done for the welfare, training and education of the retarded of all ages. We want the chance to let prospective members know what part they can play in this job," Mrs. Williams said.

Regular monthly meetings are held every third Tuesday at 7:30 at the Murray-Calloway County Comprehensive Care Center.

To obtain further information, contact Mrs. Williams at 733-9235, Mrs. Boyd Norsworthy at 489-2164, or Mrs. Lowell Palmer at 489-2253.

Rich Tramp rises above ribbing

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a little out of the ordinary. I've been a Tramp for 60 years, and I enjoy it. People think I'm putting them on when I tell them my name, but it doesn't bother me because I have my health and a beautiful family, and what more does a man need?

I did have a little trouble getting a girl to marry me because of lots of girls weren't too crazy about having the name "Tramp" but I finally snagged one, and she is super. She got used to being a Tramp, and now it doesn't bother her one bit. (The kids got teased when they were little Tramps, but now that they're grown, they're used to it, too.)

That's not all. My first name is Richard, which makes me a "Rich Tramp." I hope you print this so some of my old Army buddies who have lost track of me will know they can find me in Banks, Oregon. Thanks, Abby.

RICH TRAMP
DEAR RICH: Which only proves that if you have a sense of humor, you can rise above anything. What this world needs is more Rich Tramps!

DEAR ABBY: Someone once asked you what could be done about retrieving gold teeth, crowns, inlays, etc. from one who has died instead of just burying them, because gold is so valuable these days. Your answer was that few people have sufficient gold in their mouths to justify leaving it to heirs.

Well, I have a friend who has a pawn shop, and he says that some morticians in town bring him gold inlays, crowns, fillings, etc. that add up to quite a bit.

I am not interested in the money being lost by my family from the gold in my teeth (of which I have a considerable amount), but what can be done to protect the dead?

When a body is in the coffin, it's unlikely that a member of the family would check to see if the teeth are intact.

It is not a pleasant thought that when one is dead and helpless, a mercenary person might take advantage of the situation.

Can anything be done to prevent this from happening?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: The only protection against such an unthinkable bit of petty thievery would be to select a reputable mortician. (Of all the morticians I queried—and there were many—none had ever heard of anyone who had been guilty of such a ghoulish deed.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for five years and have just moved into a home of our own.

Well, here's the problem. When my husband is working in the backyard and he has to go to the bathroom, he thinks it's too much trouble to come in the house, so he just "goes" in the bushes instead.

When I object to this, he says he always did it as a boy, and nowadays it's old-fashioned to object to things like that.

Abby, the other day, the neighbor lady from next door was visiting me, and my husband turned his back toward a bush while she was there. I'm sure she saw him, and now I'm so mortified that I haven't been able to look her in the face since.

We've agreed to let you settle the argument. Am I old-fashioned? Or should my husband learn some manners?

EMBARRASSED
DEAR EMBARRASSED: Your husband should learn some manners.

Unexpected Shock

Still another round of hearings is under way by a federal agency trying to decide how tough the bumpers should be on our automobiles.

Since the government ordered that cars carry bumpers which can withstand a collision at five miles per hour, it has been discovered that the extra weight cuts a quarter of a mile off the mileage which can be obtained from each gallon of gas, and is adding more than $100 to the cost of a new car. When energy use and inflation are twin problems, that's a doubtful bargain for a limited improvement in safety.

It took years of investigation and tests for the bureaucracy to mandate the bigger bumpers. We hope it doesn't take as long to decide whether they were a mistake.

Exit The Short-Termers

Two-year enlistments in the armed forces served their purpose as an enlistment inducement to supplement the draft during an unpopular war.

But they have no place in the structure of a professional military organization, as acknowledged in an announcement by Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger that the short-term alternative will be phased out by the end of June.

The costs of recruiting and training an enlistee under peacetime salary scales and in a period of inflation justify the minimum three years of service ordered by Schlesinger to insure adequate return on the government's investment in military personnel.

Battle readiness in a national emergency also demands a solid force of trained units maintained at peak efficiency by a continuity unattainable under the revolving-door, two-year enlistment policy.

A three-year enlistment is not a career, but it holds the promise of more security for the individual, for his comrades and for the nation.

Letters To The Editor

Coverage Appreciated

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter on the behalf of the Social Action Committee of the Social Work Club at Murray State University.

On Tuesday, March 11, we conducted a Wheelchair Awareness Day on campus. A lot of work and planning went into making this day possible. Its purpose was to expose to the administration at Murray State some of the architectural barriers imposed on handicapped students and faculty. Judging by the participants' responses, we believe the day was a success. Hopefully, this will lead to action on their part to eliminate some of these barriers.

In the process of planning and executing the day, we asked for and received the help of many people, organizations, and businesses. This is a letter of thanks to them for their help.

They include the following: Mr. Gerald Williams from the Kentucky Rehabilitation Association for making a trip from Lexington to speak on architectural barriers at the luncheon; Mr. Neal Tanner, a Physical Therapist at Murray-Calloway County Hospital, for giving an orientation to the participants and how to use their wheelchairs; Mrs. Julie Lovins and Ms. Connie Jones for acting as advisors to the Social Work Action Committee;

Dr. Roy Tunnick for providing information in the form of statistics to the Social Work Action Committee concerning architectural barriers;

Dr. Frank Julian for providing coffee and doughnuts at the 8:00 a. m. orientation;

The Student Government of Murray State for providing funds for the luncheon; Mrs. Linda Adams and Mrs. Martha Andrus for providing an invaluable "homebase" for the committee in their office. Also for typing services, relaying phone messages, and listening to our problems and frustrations;

Mr. Bill Marcum for making trips to and from Paducah transporting wheelchairs that were used;

And to the following business and organizations for providing wheelchairs—a definite necessity to a Wheelchair Awareness Day!

Begley Drug - Murray; Wallis Drug - Murray; Woodmen of the World - Murray; Murray-Calloway County Hospital - Murray; Professional Ambulance Service - Murray and Paducah; Paducah Limb and Brace - Paducah; Snells - Paducah.

To all of these mentioned above, and to the students and administrators who worked to make this day a success, we, the Social Work Action Committee, say THANKS! Without you, where would we be?

May God Bless,
Wanda Rolfe, Representative

Usage Tax Repeal Urged

By GLENN CARD

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Particularly, Motor Vehicle Owners, Voters, Taxpayers, and The Kentucky Legislators:

As a matter of identification I am licensed by the State of Kentucky as an automobile and truck salesman and am employed by a new car and truck dealership.

Let us start this letter with a question. How much longer are the motor vehicle owners going to tolerate the inequitable usage tax on motor vehicles rather than a fair sales tax?

I do not have a staff to do extensive research on the subject, however, after talking to many out-of-state motor vehicle owners it is conceivable that Kentucky is one of a very few of the fifty states, if not the only one to enforce a usage tax law on automobiles and trucks rather than a fair and equitable sales tax.

It is possible that all of the Kentucky new car and truck dealers are experiencing the same statistical situation that we are at the dealership where I am employed. At sales meetings we have determined that 50 percent of our sales people are losing an average of one sale per week due to the usage tax law applied to cars and trucks in the state of Kentucky.

There are approximately six thousand (6,000) licensed automobile and truck salesmen in the State of Kentucky, and if the calculations above are correct it simply means that three thousand (3,000) new car and truck sales are going down the drain each week within the state.

To correct this situation alone would have a tremendous effect on both the national and state economy.

Now to a few blatant examples to point out the gross inequities of the Usage Tax Law on motor vehicles: Last week I sold a used automobile for $1,600, but the buyer who did not have a trade-in, had to pay five percent tax on $1,625 or the value of that particular car as shown in the Used Car Price Manual, that is used by the Kentucky County Court Clerks.

The purchaser of a $6,500 car or truck with a trade-in vehicle worth $5,500 or a cash difference of $1,000 paid to the dealer must still pay five percent on $6,500 under existing Usage Tax Laws rather than five percent on the actual cash difference of the transaction.

This is strictly a hypothetical vehicle transaction, but to me it is the clincher. A new 1975 vehicle with a $6,500.00 retail price and sold in September 1974 (the introduction date of 1975 models) and then resold every thirty days without trade-ins, or 11 transactions, the Usage Tax paid to the State of Kentucky could amount to as much as $3025.00, and the vehicle could have 5,000 miles or 105,000 miles.

Now to the farmers of Kentucky and their peculiar and inequitable usage tax situation. They do not have to pay tax on farm machinery. Why should they have to pay usage tax on trucks used in a farming operation? Is there a legislator or politician who can say that a truck is not a necessary farm machine? To be sure, legislation and laws have to be enacted to establish who is not a bonafide farm operator. Such as: acreage under actual cultivation, tractors and tools for same, combines, balers, etc. owned and used by said farmers. The qualified farm operator, should NOT be penalized if he uses his truck for transportation to and from other employment.

Those in political office should not worry too much about the lost tax revenue. What other state in these United States with a comparative population has as many toll roads as we have in the State of Kentucky?

A Band-Aid On A Broken Leg?

By S. C. Van Curon

By S. C. Van Curon
FRANKFORT — Governor Julian Carroll's promise to spend $20 million on coal haul roads in Eastern Kentucky is comparative to putting a band aid on a broken leg. It will bring some temporary relief, but it is a long way from correcting the ever - present problem.

This should be a signal to the governor to launch a full-scale study of the transportation problem in the coal industry since coal is calculated to occupy the number one position for solving the fuel crisis in the next decade.

Historically, the coal industry's position in the economy has been one of peaks and valleys. It's either boom or bust. But the long-range forecast now is that coal is the one energy source that we can rely on in the future.

During last year's high demand for coal, the railroads were not able to supply enough cars to transport the daily demand, but there have been periods in the past when empty coal cars clogged railroad sidings. Railroads simply cannot economically invest enough money in coal cars to supply the demand in peak periods and then let them lie idle in normal times.

One of the real problems in coal transportation these days is created by the expansion into surface mining instead of deep mining. Small deposits of coal can be economically stripped and transported to the rail loading point by truck where building a rail spur to the site would not pay.

The surface mining method has made a lot of coal available to the market today that would not have been economically possible in past years through deep mining and rail transportation.

Thus, transporting coal to the rail head over coal haul roads in Eastern and Western Kentucky has created a problem for many of the roads simply were not constructed to carry heavy coal trucks. The roads are pounded to dust in a few short weeks or months and the maintenance cost is impossible for the state. Carroll's promised $20 million won't be a drop in the bucket and it is only an emergency measure that won't cure the problem.

In Western Kentucky a 12-mile conveyor is used to transport coal to an Ohio River loading point, and this is one idea that could be used in Eastern Kentucky to move coal from the mountain mining sites to the rail head. This might be cheaper in the long run than trying to maintain a series of haul roads to the rail head. However, it must be borne in mind that the conveyor would have to be strategically located and short haul roads built to the conveyor.

The problem now is that coal is being trucked from Eastern Kentucky to Louisville and Maysville for loading on river barges. Trucking charges per ton are usually higher than rail charges, but the demand for fuel must be met.

The Kentucky River is another traffic artery that might be brought into the study for future use, but this would require heavy federal expenditures to enlarge the present 12 locks on the river to handle larger tows.

Another factor is that the Kentucky River has many sharp curves and large tows cannot be handled. At present, two coal barges are all that a tow can or does push up the Kentucky.

If Kentucky's coal future is as bright as the federal experts claim it is, we shouldn't be dilly-dallying around with emergency measures to put a band aid on roads that were not constructed in the first place to handle the heavy coal loaded trucks.

Arterial coal haul roads should be upgraded and an overall transportation plan laid out by the state.

It would be much better to transport coal by river or rail from Eastern Kentucky to Louisville, Maysville or Carrollton than to haul it over our highways and create traffic congestion.

Maybe the state should establish a revolving fund and purchase some coal cars and then lease them to the railroads, thus amortizing the cost. This would be a big aid to the coal industry and its future.

But the fact remains that we must have coal haul roads to get the coal to the railheads or market. A thorough study should be made by the state, and the roads upgraded.

The coal industry is now talking with the state about a cooperative plan whereby the coal industry will shoulder a portion of the expense to keep the coal haul roads maintained.

Intrauterine Contraceptive Devices Studied

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

In view of the fact that over 4 million women in the United States use intrauterine devices (IUDs) as contraceptives, recent widespread publicity about them may have created considerable concern, especially among their users.

It all started last year when A. H. Robins Company's IUD (Dalkon Shield) allegedly was associated with a number of maternal deaths and septic abortions. These reports resulted last June in prohibition by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) of the sale of the Dalkon Shield and the start of an investigation.

In a surprise move last December, the FDA allowed A.H. Robins Company to begin marketing again their IUDs. FDA made a similar requirement of other marketers of IUDs. Working with industry, the FDA will assist in devising a study which will give reliable information on all such products and the risks involved in their use.

IUDs are effective and generally regarded as safer than contraceptive medicines taken by mouth. The results of this study may give facts which could lead to the design of even safer IUDs.

To gain needed information, the FDA requested the Robins Company to report complete data on the results of use and any adverse reactions to the Dalkon Shield. In addition, the

March 16-22 Set, Poison Prevention

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Labels bearing the warning "toxic" or "poison" will not protect children from poisoning accidents or death.

Over 90 per cent of all poisoning accidents occur in the home and involve children under the age of five. The Department for Human Resources (DHR) states that 95 per cent of these accidents can be prevented.

Children at this stage are not likely to read, especially labels. However, they can run, reach, grab and are likely to be attracted by brightly colored labels. A red skull and bones with the word "poison" in red letters set against a yellow background on a can of pesticide may make the can look like a desirable toy.

The National Clearinghouse for Poison Centers estimates that over 4,000 children are poisoned from pesticides each year. Pesticides fall into four chemical categories: those used to control weeds, fungi, insects and rodents. DHR's office of Pesticides and Consumer Safety warns that all these products should be properly stored and not kept inside the house where toxic fumes can escape.

All household products such as bleach, cleaning compounds and room deodorizers should be stored on the highest shelf of a utility closet. Cleaning and polishing agents rank next to medicines in the number of accidental poisonings reported.

Parents can observe Poison Prevention Week, March 16-22, by making sure poisonous products used in the home and for the lawn and garden are out of the reach of young explorers. Further information on pesticides and poison prevention can be obtained from DHR's office of Pesticides, and Consumer Safety, 564-4537.

GED Series To Be Repeated For Adults

Kentucky Educational Television's (KET) General Educational Development (GED) series, designed to help adults finish high school at home, will be repeated on KET, beginning March 21.

The series, which has been previewed in many states is now being utilized in adult education programs across the country. The series was initially targeted to reach, over a period of years, the more than 740,000 adults in the state who have never finished high school.

The series also has been previewed by several institutions with training programs and KET has sold 32 complete sets of the series to the Department of Defense for use at American military bases overseas.

The 34 half-hour programs have been shown to be an effective core curriculum for teaching high school level content in an adult manner. Coupled with the teachers own special techniques, the series becomes a useful tool in motivating students. Because it is a unique combination of entertainment and education, the student develops an interest that is easily maintained throughout the course of study.

A Home Study Guide is available to help viewers get the most out of the series. The guide is available from KET for a small charge.

KET network stations will broadcast the programs at 8:00 a.m., Monday, Wednesday, Friday, beginning March 21. Due to interest expressed, there will be an afternoon showing at 3:30 p.m., starting April 21.

For more information, please write KET, 600 Cooper Drive, Lexington, Kentucky 40502, or call KET collect at 606-233-0666 and ask for GED information.

Blake told Rubinstein, "After tonight I'm not so sure." He added that he'd be 92 in four more days.

No-Fault Law To Become Effective July 1, 1975

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Beginning July 1, Kentucky automobile owners will have the option of either accepting or rejecting the new no-fault insurance benefits.

The law, enacted by the 1974 General Assembly, becomes effective on that date.

According to Harold B. McGuffey, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Insurance, "There are many misconceptions about no-fault and we are planning an education campaign to inform the public of the new law."

"Basically, no-fault insurance requires the policyholder's insurance to pay medical expenses resulting from a traffic accident," he explained, "regardless of who was at fault."

In accepting this coverage, an accident victim loses his right to sue unless medical expenses exceed $1,000. But the coverage will guarantee prompt payment of claims because it will no longer be necessary to await the results of a lengthy investigation to determine who was at fault.

McGuffey says that under the plan, if an injured party is not paid within 30 days, the insurance company must pay him interest of up to 18 per cent.

The law requires minimum coverage of up to $10,000 for each injured person. These benefits include payments for medical and rehabilitation expenses, a maximum of $200 per week for loss of income or benefits to survivors in case of death and $1,000 for funeral and burial expenses.

McGuffey pointed out that a motorist may obtain additional protection and could choose deductibles of $250, $500 or $1,000 at reduced premiums.

The no-fault law pertains to injury or death only. It has no bearing on loss or damage to property.

"Any person not wanting this coverage must obtain a rejection form from his insurance company or his insurance agent," McGuffey said. "He then retains his right to sue, but will not be eligible for the no-fault benefits."

ment's offices," he added, "and anyone who does not submit a form will automatically have his present insurance coverage converted to no-fault July 1."

Should a person reject the coverage and later decide he wants its benefits, he may withdraw his rejection. Persons accepting no-fault will be eligible for a 10 per cent reduction in his present bodily injury liability insurance rates.

Whether a person accepts or rejects no-fault, the commissioner said, the new law requires that all motor vehicles be protected by auto liability coverage to a minimum of $10,000.

A person found guilty of operating an uninsured vehicle in Kentucky will be subject to a $50-$500 fine.

McGuffey says that guidelines for the regulations were drafted by a committee he appointed last July. The 18-member committee consisted of 13 individuals from other areas of the United States with experience in implementing similar laws.

He said that the group was divided into seven subcommittees and that they worked more than 270 hours drafting the guidelines.

Brochures explaining no-fault are now being distributed through all county court clerk's offices. Beginning April 1, there will be radio and TV announcements on the subject and insurance agents will conduct seminars to educate the public.

Timeout With Brandon

By MIKE BRANDON
Sports Editor

Indeed: It's Time For Character

Fred Overton has turned in the right direction.

Let's hope that now he's turned that way he'll keep walking that way.

At the meeting of the Thorobred Club Monday night, Overton told the audience he was trying to recruit character in basketball players. That, above anything else, is what Murray State needs.

At the University of Kentucky, they win for the school. They play with a pride that's unmatched anywhere. At Murray, they play often for themselves, with no pride at all in the school.

Overton is hoping to recruit on a regional basis this year. Let's take a look at why this would be good.

Regional athletes would undoubtedly have more pride in their school. And with their peer groups here to watch them perform, they would take more pride in themselves and their team.

Murray State has recruited top talent in the past few years. The character sometimes ranks at the other end of the scale.

It's obvious to the fan. Ballplayers like Jesse Williams stand out. Loaded with talent and destined to become a professional player, Williams is a gentleman, a top citizen and has the desire to win.

But it's hard to come by players like Jesse Williams. But, if you can get one or two players like him each year, then add some of the best players from our area, then you have the making for a good ballclub.

I would much rather see a player with average talent and great desire and pride than to see a possible All-American with no respect for himself or any other of his teammates. And Murray State has had its share of the latter type.

One "bad apple" can spoil the whole bunch. It happened last year and although Overton would probably never admit it for print, it happened this year.

You can pick out the bad apples. They sat motionless on the bench, concerned only with whether or not they'll get back in the ballgame, not really caring or showing any support for what's happening on the floor.

And as soon as the game is over, they are walking back to the dorm, talking about how many points they got and puffing away on cigarettes.

There was not that much Fred Overton could do this year. If there had been a house-cleaning this season, there wouldn't have been a house because by the end of the season, the Racers had only a nine-man squad.

This next year could be different. If indeed Overton does recruit the players with "character," then one of two things will happen.

The worst possible thing would be for them to be exposed to the "bad apples" and too much of it rub off.

But hopefully, what will happen is that with their attitude, they can change the others. There will be competition for all positions next year and nobody, will be assured of a job, with the possible exception of Jesse Williams.

People have asked time and time again why Murray doesn't recruit from the region. The answer is simple: Murray State can't get them.

Why? It's not because the best always go to UK or Louisville. It's because when they go their for a visit, they see a game in which the players play with great emotion and really care.

And off the floor, they are in the presence of the citizen-athletes.

When a player comes to visit Murray State, often-times he winds up for the weekend with a "bad apple."

And that's the greatest mistake that could be made.

And instead of having your top citizen-athlete from the region at Murray State, he winds up going to UK or Louisville.

It's time to change this. And the first step is to recruit people like Eddie Williams, James Wells, Robert Martin, Cliff Robinson, Dwane Casey and Victor Jordan.

And the vast majority of people in Murray and Racers fans throughout the area want more than just "a token."

We'd like to get as many top quality citizen-athletes as possible.

Racer Blue-Gold Game To Be In Stewart Stadium Thursday

Murray State University fans will get a preview Thursday night, March 20, of the football team which will carry the University's hopes for an Ohio Valley Conference championship next fall.

That's when the annual Blue and Gold, inter-squad game will be played on the artificial turf of Roy Stewart Stadium, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Admission is $1.00, with Murray State students being admitted upon presentation of their identification cards.

This will be the second inter-squad game for Coach Bill Furgerson's charges within a week. Last Saturday afternoon, the 81-member squad scrimmaged in the mud at Union County High School in Morganfield in an inter-squad contest sponsored by the Union County High School Booster Club.

Because of the muddy condition of the field, it was impossible Saturday to establish any kind of a running game, Coach Furgerson said, but "the passing game was effective with all three quarterbacks—Mike Hobbie, Mike Dickens and Roger Rushing, a 6-1, 188-pound freshman from Morganfield doing a good job."

"Because of injuries and other players out recovering from surgery," Furgerson said, "it will be impossible to split the squad evenly for Thursday's exercise, so our plan calls simply for offense versus defense."

This year most teams in the OVC will be coming up with new quarterbacks, and Murray is no exception. Graduating will be Tom Pandolfi, the Racers' two-time All-OVC field general and second most effective passer in the conference last season.

Hobbie, a 6-1, 197-pound senior from Atlanta, Ga., who has been waiting patiently in the wings while Pandolfi played out his eligibility, is expected to direct the first-team offense.

Hobbie has made brief appearances during the last two years when Pandolfi was injured and has performed well under pressure. "He appears to be able to direct the team successfully, and has fine knowledge of our offense as well as a strong throwing arm," Furgerson said.

Another big hole in the Racers' offense was caused by the graduation of Don Clayton, Murray's Kodak All-American in his junior year and two-time All-OVC tailback. Clayton broke the school records for total yards rushing his junior year with 1,403 yards and the career rushing yardage record last fall, his senior year.

Expected to step into Clayton's shoes is Art Kennedy, a 5-8, 185-pound speedster from Gulfport, Miss. Kennedy, a transfer from Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, was an outstanding junior college runner and capped off his career by being named as the Most Valuable Offensive Player in the Mississippi Junior College All-Star game.

Seven other familiar faces will be missing from the Racers' lineup next fall. Gone because of graduation will be Al Caldwell, Don Deicken, Paul Coltharp, David Mains, Charlie Carpenter, Russ Carlisle and Sieve (Flip) Martin, the punter and place kicking specialist.

"Because of Martin's graduation, chances are we will be depending largely upon freshmen for our kicking next fall," Coach Furgerson said, singling out Scott Curtis, an incoming freshman from Fulton City High School; his son, Wes Furgerson, Murray; and Jim O'Connor, a safety from Chicago's St. Lawrence High School. O'Connor had 23 interceptions his junior and senior seasons.

Other outstanding new people who will bear watching next fall will include:

Fullback Larry Jones, a transfer from the University of Kentucky from Madisonville. He is 6-feet, weighs 220 pounds and runs the 40-yard dash in 4.5 seconds.

Joe Riley, a freshman running back from Owensboro. Riley is 5-11, weight 185 pounds and was all-state, all-southern and prep All-American in high school, and Mike McConnel, a prep All-American running back from Adirsville, Ga.

Leading the returning lettermen will be Doug Sanders, a tight end from Springfield, Ky., who led the league in pass interceptions until he broke his thumb in mid-season; Willie DeLoach, Savannah, Ga., wide receiver, who caught 16 passes for 226 yards and two touchdowns last season; and big Jay Waddle, a 6-2, 226-pound defensive tackle from Washington Court House, Ohio.

Last year, the Racers finished second in the Ohio Valley Conference and had an overall record of 9 wins and 2 losses. They have not been beaten in Roy Stewart Stadium, having won 11 games there since the new facility was opened.

Problems Continue For North Stars, Lose 5-3

By The Associated Press

Bob Pulford is coach of the Los Angeles Kings, a National Hockey League team with a present and a future. Charlie Burns guides the Minnesota North Stars, a team with its future in its past.

Bob Pulford coaches a team that picked up only three points in its last six games—and still held a 13-point lead over its nearest Division 3 rivals, the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Charlie Burns coaches a team that deflected two Kings' shots into their own goal Tuesday night.

"I'm not going to tell you how I really feel," said Burns, whose North Stars have won 20 times in 70 games. "We're just not playing good hockey."

That showed in the Kings' 5-3 triumph Tuesday night. Elsewhere in the NHL, the St. Louis Blues tripped the Penguins 5-2, the Vancouver Canucks tied the New York Islanders 4-4 and the Philadelphia Flyers blasted the Washington Capitals 7-2.

Mike Murphy scored twice, one of them with a teammate in the penalty box, and contributed an assist in the Kings' triumph.

Frank St. Marseille, Bob Nevin and Bob Berry were the other Kings scorers. Ernie Hicke, Craig Cameron and Bill Goldsworthy hit for the North Stars.

Blues 5, Penguins 2
Garry Unger and Pierre Plante scored their 30th goals of the season for St. Louis in their triumph over Pittsburgh.

Canucks 4, Islanders 4
Don Lever's second goal of the game and 34th of the season gave Vancouver its tie with the Islanders.

Flyers 7, Capitals 2
Rick MacLeish scored three goals and had two assists, while Bobby Clarke, Reggie Leach, Ross Lonsberry and Jim Watson added single goals for the Flyers.

Last-Second Free Throws Keys St. John's To NIT Victory

By KEN RAPPOGOTT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A funny thing happened to Mel Utley on the way to the basket. He slipped.

A not-so-funny thing happened to the Manhattan basketball team on the play. The Jaspers got called for a foul.

Utley got up and with the game on the line, threw in two free throws in the last eight seconds to give St. John's a tinging 57-56 victory in the quarter-finals of the National Invitation Tournament Tuesday night.

"It was ice," said Utley, one of St. John's best foul shooters. "I knew I'd make those free throws. I went inside to draw the foul and got it."

The victory, one of the most exciting in this 38th annual post-season classic, shot the Redmen into Saturday's semi-finals against Providence, a 101-80 victor over Pittsburgh in Tuesday night's first game.

South Carolina meets Princeton and Oral Roberts takes on Oregon Thursday night in another quarter-final doubleheader to determine the other two berths in Saturday's semis at Madison Square Garden.

Utley's winning free throws came in the face of rowdy Manhattan fans, who waved their arms wildly behind the St. John's basket in an effort to distract the Redmen's player.

The Jaspers appeared to have the game won with a 56-55 lead and the ball in their possession with 25 seconds remaining. But on an inbound play, Tom Lockhart went in for an unneeded shot and missed, and the ball bounced to a St. John's player.

Manhattan's Mike Young committed a foul and St. John's set up a play with 19 seconds left. The ball was passed to Utley, and he drove for a shot with eight seconds remaining. That's when he was fouled by Charley Mahoney. At least the referee thought so.

"You want to know what happened?" Utley explained. "I slipped and banged into Charley. I was wearing someone else's sneakers and my feet didn't feel right."

The first game wasn't half as exciting, but Providence gave evidence of its tremendous scoring power. Joe Hassett and Bill Eason each scored 18 points as six Friars hit double figures against a supposedly tough defensive club. The game was over at the half, when Providence took a 57-38 lead after taking charge of the backboards.

Lower Price

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Charlotte Hornets said Tuesday they have lowered to $1.1 million the financial requirement for fielding a team in the World Football League in 1975.

Upton Bell, president and general manager, told a news conference that the figure had been lowered from $1.5 million. He also said $750,000 worth of stock has been sold toward the team's financial goal.

The deadline remains March 31 and the new figure represents a lowering of the team budget for the 1975 season, according to Bell. Under a league requirement, the money is to be in escrow to cover expenses for the season.

McAdoo Scores 51 But Braves Drop Contest

By The Associated Press
What did Bob McAdoo do? Plenty...but not enough. Buffalo's 6-foot-10 center pumped in an overwhelming 51 points Tuesday night, but Rudy Tomjanovich and Calvin Murphy combined for 64, carrying the Houston Rockets to a 122-115 victory over the Braves.

Tomjanovich got 34 points and Murphy 30 to help the Rockets snap a five-game National Basketball Association losing streak and maintain their 1½-game edge over third-place Cleveland in the Central Division.

The Cavaliers, battling with the New York Knicks for the wild-card playoff berth that goes to the best third-place team in the Eastern Conference, upended Washington 112-98 while the Knicks beat Los Angeles 109-100 to stay within half a game of Cleveland in the conference standings.

In other NBA games, Chicago beat Philadelphia 111-96, Boston whipped Detroit 116-90, Kansas City-Omaha edged Atlanta 105-101; Golden State wallowed Phoenix 133-103 and Portland defeated Milwaukee 95-89.

Houston took the lead to stay in the second period, led 59-52 at the half and steadily pulled out to an insurmountable 14-point margin midway in the third period.

"That man is fantastic," Tomjanovich said of McAdoo. "He should be bronzed."

Cavaliers 112, Bulls 98
Bobby Smith and Dick Snyder each connected for 23 points to lead Cleveland.

Knicks 109, Lakers 100
New York, led by Walt Frazier's 27 points plus 23 by John Gianelli and 21 by Earl Monroe, outscored the Lakers 21-4 in the final seven minutes to stay in the thick of the playoff skirmish.

Bulls 111, 76ers 96

Chet Walker's 30 points led Chicago past Philadelphia.

Celtics 116, Pistons 90
Boston ran away from Detroit with a 43-point fourth quarter, taking advantage of the absence of the Pistons' big man, Bob Lanier, out with a knee injury.

Kings 105, Hawks 101
With Kansas City-Omaha nursing a 99-97 lead in the final minute, Larry McNeill tapped in a rebound and seconds later hit two free throws to make it 103-97 and finish off the Hawks.

Warriors 133, Suns 103
Rick Barry returned from two games on the injury list with a neck muscle spasm to score 28 points in 29 minutes and lead Golden State past the Suns.

Trail Blazers 95, Bucks 89
John Johnson pumped in 18 points to lead Portland to a come-from-behind victory over Milwaukee.

Palmer And Irwin Rated Top Contenders At Jacksonville

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin and Arnold Palmer, each fresh from a brief rest, return to action this week and are prime contenders in the $150,000 Greater Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

Irwin has played some of the strongest golf on the tour this season, and the improved performances of the 45-year-old Palmer make him much more than a sentimental favorite in the 72-hole test that begins Thursday on the water-dotted, 7,088-yard, par-72 Deerwood Country Club course.

Both took time off last week after extensive early-season play.

Irwin, who was runner-up to Lee Trevino in the Citrus Open in his last outing, often has come close but has not yet won this season. "But that," he noted, "is a big difference." He's been sixth or better in his last four starts.

Palmer, trying to make a comeback after the poorest season of his legendary career, has had two opportunities to win this year. He was leading with two holes to play in the Hawaiian Open and was in position to challenge for the title in the Jackie Gleason Classic before shooting 74 in the last round.

"I have two big goals this year," Palmer said. "Winning, of course, is one of them. Making the Ryder Cup is the other."

It appears he must accomplish the first to achieve the second. He ranks far down the point list and needs to win to have any chance to make the 12-man Ryder Cup squad that will play Britain's best golfers later this year on Palmer's home course, the Laurel Valley Golf Club in Pennsylvania.

Among the chief challengers to Irwin and Palmer for the $30,000 first prize here are defending champion Hubert Green, Tom Weiskopf and Australian veteran Bruce Crampton, who has played extremely well in his last few starts.

Some other standouts in the 150-man field are Jim Dent, the distance hitter who has challenged twice in recent weeks, Gleason champion Bob Murphy, San Diego winner J.C. Sneed, scrambler Dave Stockton and U.S. amateur champion Jerry Pate.

Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller and Lee Trevino are skipping this event. South African Gary Player doesn't begin his American season until next week.

Connors Says He's No Shoo-In

By The Associated Press
Jimmy Connors, the world's top men's singles player, appeared impressed by the field in the Independent Players' Association Tennis Tournament at Madison Square Garden's Felt Forum.

"I'm no shoo-in," the top seed said Tuesday on the eve of his first-round match against Dick Bohnstedt. "Everyone here is tough. Especially Jan Kodes. I'm just taking each match one at a time."

Kodes proved his toughness Tuesday night, outlasting Poland's Wojtek Fibak, 7-6, 5-7, 6-4 in a marathon two-hour opening-round match.

Kodes, the Czechoslovakian rebounding from a poor 1974 season, finally eked out the victory but complained, "The court had no bounce, no go. It was hard work, not fun playing."

In another match at the ITP event, Jeff Austin trimmed a tired Clark Gubner 6-7, 7-6, 6-3.

In a World Championship Tennis Red Group event at Memphis, Mike Cahill, a local favorite playing in his first professional tournament, upset sixth-seeded Paul Gerken, 6-3, 6-3.

Murray To Play Salukis Today

The baseball game scheduled for Tuesday at Reagan Field between Murray State and Southern Illinois University will be played today at 3 p.m.

Yesterday's game was one of seven that has been washed away by the recent heavy rains.

Southern Illinois, always a baseball power, is again one of the top-ranked teams in the nation.

Murray is 11-1 for the season and a win today over Southern Illinois followed by a good weekend could very well vault the Racers into the top 10 teams in the nation.

Friday, Rutgers will come to town for a single game at 3 p.m. and then on both Saturday and Sunday, the 'Breds will be playing Rutgers and Illinois-Chicago.

Rutgers and Chicago will play at 11 a.m. each morning while Murray will play at 1 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Two Top-Ranked Teams To Be In Action Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's top-drawing basketball event — the Boys State High School Tournament — is under way today at Freedom Hall with two of the state's top teams in action.

Lexington Henry Clay, ranked third in the season's final Associated Press High School Basketball Poll with 99 points took to the floor against unranked Carlisle County to open the tournament at 1 p.m.

The 2:30 p.m. game pitted Bath County against Newport Catholic. Neither received votes in the final AP poll of sportswriters and broadcasters in the state.

Louisville Central, No. 1 in the poll with 12 of the 14 first-place votes and 139 points, meets Warren East to kick off the evening action at 7:30 p.m. Warren East received five votes, not enough to make the top 10.

The final game this evening, at 9 p.m., pits Owensboro against Shelbyville. Neither received votes in the March 6 poll. Three more of the top 10 teams meet as first-round action continues Thursday.

Christian County, No. 7 in the poll with 41 points, takes on unranked Clay County in the 1 p.m. contest. Ashland Fairview and Lincoln County, both unranked, meet in the 2:30 p.m. game.

Johnson Central, ranked 8th with 27 points, clashes with Knott County at 7:30 p.m. Knott County was in the top 10 much of the season but dropped out in the final poll, receiving only 10 votes.

Louisville Male, which received two first-place votes and 123 points to take the No. 2 spot in the poll, faces Elizabethtown, which received no votes, in the final first round game at 9 p.m. Thursday.

First round winners play Friday to determine who advances to the semifinals Saturday morning. Semifinal winners meet in the championship game at 8:10 p.m. Saturday.

Cougars Routed 7-3 By Phoenix Roadrunners

By The Associated Press
It was another frustrating night for Coach Pat Stapleton and his Chicago Cougars of the

Male Picked To Win State Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louisville Male has been picked to win this year's State High School Basketball Tournament by nine of the 16 coaches with teams in the event.

If the 7th Region champions win this year, it will be their fourth state championship and their third since 1970.

Five of the coaches said they thought defending champion Louisville Central would prevail again this year. Central, the 6th Region winner, downed Male 50-54 in the championship game last year.

The other two coaches polled by the Louisville Courier-Journal picked Lexington Henry Clay, the 11th Region Champion. Henry Clay would be the first Lexington school to win since Lafayette became the state champion in 1957.

World Hockey Association.

First of all, there was the officiating. "We've had the same linesmen three nights in a row, and their interpretation of the rules differs from mine," Stapleton said.

Then there was a 33-second letdown in the second period after the Cougars had whittled a 3-0 deficit to 3-2. "We were pressing and got caught for two goals," he said sheepishly. The goals by Murray Keogan and John Gray opened the floodgates to what ended up a 7-3 Phoenix Roadrunners rout of the Cougars.

Keogan, Gray, and Pete McNamee each finished with two goals for Phoenix.

Mark Lomenda, Rick Morris and Gary MacGregor had the Cougars goals.

Officers 5, Nordiques 5
Doug Kerslake, Ed Joyal and Bruce MacGregor scored two goals each to power the Edmonton past Quebec.

Fighting Saints 5, Blazers 3
Ted Hampson, Blake Ball and Wayne Connelly each had a goal and an assist in leading Minnesota past Vancouver.

"We're not afraid of Notre Dame, UCLA, North Carolina or anybody that's in this tournament."

UCLA, the giant of college basketball over the past 12 years with 10 NCAA titles, has an awesome reputation. Only Montana isn't shaking with fright.

Second-ranked UCLA advanced to Portland with a 103-91 overtime struggle with Michigan, while Montana scored a 69-63 victory over Utah State.

Indiana's No. 1 ranked Hoosiers raced into their second-round game with a 78-53 victory over Texas-El Paso, and although no team scares Bobby Knight's boys, the Indiana coach is apprehensive about 13th-rated Oregon State.

McCarthy coached in the ABA from 1965 until he was dismissed by the Kentucky Colonels last year after his team lost four straight division playoff games.

Many remember McCarthy best for his teams at Mississippi State, which interrupted Kentucky's dominance of the Southeastern Conference by winning four SEC titles from 1956-1963.

"For a while, he made us forget Adolph Rupp," said Lt. Gov. William Winter, who is chairman of the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame.

Rupp, the longtime Kentucky coach, called McCarthy "a great competitor."

Kermit Davis, the present Mississippi State coach and the first player recruited by McCarthy at State, said, "Babe was a great person."

TENNIS
CARACAS, Venezuela — The Soviet Union's second-ranked Teimuraz Kakulia scored the first round's biggest upset by whipping defending champion Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico 7-6, 1-6, 6-2 in the $60,000 World Championship Tennis Blue Group.

Relief pitcher Tug McGraw still believes.

When he was a member of the New York Mets', McGraw's remark "You gotta believe!" became the rallying cry of the fans as the Mets went on to win the 1973 National League pennant.

Tuesday, the left-hander, now with the Philadelphia Phillies, checked into a Philadelphia hospital for tests prior to the removal of a lump near the lower tip of his left shoulder blade.

"I'm leaving this up to the doctors," the 30-year-old McGraw said. "They say there's nothing seriously wrong with me. When the doctors say it, well, you gotta believe, right?"

In Tuesday's exhibition games, it was the hitters who were doing the believing.

Baltimore stopped Texas 11-8, the Chicago White Sox edged Cincinnati 7-5, Detroit nipped Montreal 11-10, Milwaukee stopped Oakland 8-7, California defeated Cleveland 5-4, Houston beat Kansas City 5-2, the Chicago Cubs downed San Francisco 4-1, the New York Mets beat Boston 5-4, Minnesota knocked over Atlanta 5-3, St. Louis crushed Philadelphia 12-3, and New York Yankees topped Pittsburgh 3-2.

Don Baylor's two home runs—giving him four in the last two games—powered the Baltimore Orioles over the Texas Rangers. The outfielder also drove in a first-inning run on a fielder's choice as the two teams rapped out a total of 26 hits.

Two homers by Buddy Bradford lifted the Chicago White Sox over the Cincinnati Reds. Ed Herrmann also homered for the Pale Hose while Tony Perez slammed a round-tripper for Cincinnati.

Milwaukee's Bob Coluccio drove in five runs—four of them on two home runs—including the go-ahead marker in the ninth against Oakland. Joe Rudi homered for the A's and Tom Bianco hit a two-run homer for the Brewers.

A lead-off triple by Detroit's Ron LeFlore and a wild pitch ended Montreal's eight-game winning streak. LeFlore also had a home run while Bill Freehan hit a two-run triple and rookie left fielder Dan Meyer slammed a two-run homer. Reggie Smith drove in two runs with a homer and a triple as the Cards routed the Phillies.

The Mets erupted for seven hits to score four runs in the seventh inning against the Red Sox. Tony Conigliaro, who has been out of baseball for 3½ years after being hit in the face by a pitch, slammed two doubles and a single in five at-bats for the Red Sox.

Houston pitcher James Rodney Richard allowed only three hits through six innings as the Astros ended a six-game losing streak.

Right-hander Ray Burris gave up only one hit—a bunt single—in the four innings he worked to lead the Cubs to victory.

Randy Bass' two-run double in the ninth lifted Minnesota to victory, and the Yanks swept their two-game series from the Pirates in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Doc Medich pitched six scoreless innings for New York, limiting Pittsburgh to one hit.

Former Colonel Coach Babe McCarthy Is Dead

BALDWIN, Miss. (AP)—James "Babe" McCarthy, former Mississippi State and American Basketball Association coach, will be buried Thursday in this Northeast Mississippi town.

McCarthy, 51, died Tuesday after a year-long battle with cancer of the colon.

His death came only a few hours after he was inducted into the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame in ceremonies at Jackson which he was unable to attend.

McCarthy coached in the ABA from 1965 until he was dismissed by the Kentucky Colonels last year after his team lost four straight division playoff games.

Many remember McCarthy best for his teams at Mississippi State, which interrupted Kentucky's dominance of the Southeastern Conference by winning four SEC titles from 1956-1963.

"For a while, he made us forget Adolph Rupp," said Lt. Gov. William Winter, who is chairman of the Mississippi Sports Hall of Fame.

Rupp, the longtime Kentucky coach, called McCarthy "a great competitor."

Kermit Davis, the present Mississippi State coach and the first player recruited by McCarthy at State, said, "Babe was a great person."

City Officials From Across State Testify On Collective Bargaining

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Fourteen city officials from across the state are testifying today at a hearing on collective bargaining for public employees.

The hearing is the third held by a special subcommittee to gather input on collective bargaining prior to the 1976 General Assembly. The issue is expected to be one of the hottest of the next session.

Paducah City Mgr. William Howerton told the committee he sees "no reason why collective bargaining should not be permitted by legislation for public employees."

However, Howerton emphasized he doesn't think collective bargaining legislation is needed, only that he finds no reason to oppose it.

He said all public employees, with the exception of supervisory personnel, should be permitted to bargain, but that a no-strike clause should be mandatory in all contracts relating to public safety employees and others whose work directly affects the health of the community.

Howerton is presently negotiating a contract between the city and the Paducah firefighters.

Ralph L. Rascoe, director of finance for Owensboro, opposed collective bargaining legislation, saying that it is not needed since elected city officials seek public office with "the desire to do something good for their community."

He cited raises and benefits given to Owensboro city employees over the last 11 years as an example.

Rascoe said "union bosses are taking over our cities and towns," and warned that elected officials would be forced to give in to union demands if collective bargaining legislation is passed.

Lexington-Fayette County

Mayor Foster Pettit also opposed collective bargaining for public employees. He said if the next legislature passes some kind of bargaining legislation, it should provide for a local option that would guarantee self determination for each public employer within the state.

Pettit said if Kentucky enacts such legislation, it must not be done on a "piecemeal basis" but should cover all categories of state and local employees.

The mayor also said that any legislation should prohibit strikes by public employees. Both Lexington firemen and policemen have asked the city government to negotiate contracts, and firemen struck for several days last summer.

Interests Rates Down, But New Home Construction Slumps

By G.G. LaBELLE
Associated Press Writer

The interest rate on home loans has gone down. But, in a blow to economists' hopes for an early end to the housing slump, so have the number of homes being built.

The Commerce Department reported Tuesday that housing units started in February were 1.9 per cent below January and 50 per cent below a year earlier. And housing permits, which usually anticipate actual construction starts by three months, were the lowest on record.

Some economists had predicted a turnaround in the depressed housing industry this spring as a first step in recovery from the nation's economic slump. Housing industries had gained on the stock market.

But the housing stocks fell Tuesday amid a market decline blamed mostly on profit taking. The Dow Jones industrial average fell 7.12 to 779.41 in a hectic day of trading on the New York Stock Exchange that was the ninth largest in exchange history.

And Michael Sumichrast, economist for the National Association of Home Builders, said he now sees no possible recovery in the housing industry before summer. "I never thought the permit rate would go that low, but it did," he said.

At the same time, the Federal Home Loan Board reported interest on home loans took its steepest decline since 1971 in February. And some banks lowered prime rates, the interest to the biggest corporations.

Theoretically lower loan interest should encourage home buying and the continuing fall in prime rates should spur business expansion. But it doesn't seem to be working that way.

Also on Tuesday, the tax cut and energy bills continued their way through the legislative process.

Senators opened debate on a tax cut bill designed to pump money into the economy and defeated a motion to lower the Senate's $29.2 billion in cuts to about the $20 billion level passed by the House. President Ford sought a $16.2 billion cut.

The Senate also accepted a compromise on the oil depletion allowance and left it tied to the tax cut bill. The depletion allowance permits oil and natural gas firms to write off 22 per cent of their gross income. The compromise would continue the tax break for independents but eliminate it for big firms. The House voted to end it altogether and a Senate-House panel will have to work out the differences.

The House Ways and Means Committee met on an energy bill that could hike federal gasoline taxes, now four cents a gallon, up to 37 cents a gallon on gas used over nine gallons a week. The Federal Energy Administration proposed rules that would raise gas prices more than other fuel prices under President Ford's tariff plans.

Republicans on the Joint Economic Committee, meanwhile, called for passage of a tax cut in "a fight against depression" but warned against increasing energy costs. And Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, while again predicting a turnaround in recession by the fourth quarter, called inflation a chronic problem and said more government spending would worsen economic troubles.

THIRTY-DAY OUTLOOK — This is the way the nation's weather shapes up for the next 30 days, in terms of temperatures and precipitation, according to the National Weather Service in Washington.

Government Weighing Rock Island Solutions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is weighing several short-term solutions but has no long-term plan for saving the rail service provided by the financially ailing Rock Island line.

The government was left in this position after the apparent breakdown of a merger agreement involving the Rock Island. The Union Pacific, which has been attempting to merge with the Rock Island for more than 10 years, announced Tuesday it may no longer be interested in the deal.

A spokesman for the Union Pacific said its management would recommend to its board of directors on March 27 that the merger agreement with the Rock Island be terminated. The spokesman said the board was likely to approve that recommendation.

The announcement came one day after the Rock Island, or Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad as it is formally known, filed for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws and announced it would no longer accept cargo for shipment after March 31.

The Interstate Commerce Commission met Tuesday with various railroads in an attempt to work out a plan for maintaining rail service on Rock Island lines if the railroad shuts down its operations.

The government's long-range plans for saving rail service on the Rock Island were predicated on an early merger of the railroad with other, more profitable, carriers.

If the Union Pacific actually withdraws its merger request, it will mean that no railroad has ICC authority to merge with the Rock Island. The ICC approved the Union Pacific request, subject to numerous conditions, late last year after 10 years of deliberations.

Consulting Firm Recommends Changes In State Education Services To The Blind

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A preliminary report by a consulting firm recommends a basic structural change in services to the blind by the Kentucky Education Department.

The study said Tuesday the current structure "does not reflect a coherent concept of organization" and that there is lack of coordination in the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services.

It also said the system does not clearly define responsibilities and has led to an informality which hinders many operators.

About 90 state employees now serve the blind under a bureau of rehabilitation services in the education department.

The report by Cresap, McCormick and Paget Inc., outlined to the State Board of Education, suggests two options.

One would create a full bureau of services to the blind, with a division for field services, a division of employment opportunities and a rehabilitation center.

The other would merge two existing divisions in the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services into division of services to the blind.

The state board decided to wait for a voluminous full report before taking any action.

Although the consultant study cited numerous shortcomings in the current system of aid to the blind, it said it found no evidence to substantiate allegations of discrimination against blind persons in rehabilitative work.

One definite proposal was to move the headquarters of the Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped from Frankfort to Louisville.

The consultant representative said it took him a half hour just to find the library, located behind some railroad tracks in north Frankfort.

The report also recommended returning the library to the Department of Libraries.

The state board heard explanations by two local superintendents on their deficits for last fiscal year. Previously 15 other districts came in with their stories.

The themes of Floyd County Supt. Charles Clark and Leslie County Supt. Martha Lovett were similar—higher costs had been a major factor and tax collections fell short of 100 percent.

Clark, whose district has a $40,268 deficit by education department figures, indicated about $48,000 in taxes had not been collected that year.

He and Mrs. Lovett told of efforts to cut spending this fiscal year and erase the deficits.

Mrs. Lovett drew praise from state education officials for reducing Leslie County's deficit from more than $100,000 to less than $30,000 in the two years since she has taken over.

"Let's send her to Washington," quipped state board member David Asher of Pineville.

A complicated jurisdictional dispute over regulation of business schools was resolved temporarily by the board, with both sides hoping to present a joint proposal in September if they can agree.

At stake is whether a state board existing before a 1972 statute may still regulate proprietary business schools.

Some have recommended passage of an act in the 1976 session under which a single state board would regulate all business schools, including those emphasizing technical training.

BEFORE THE SHOT — William "Billy" Vinson, 46, stands in his front door at Memphis, Tenn., just seconds before he fatally wounded himself. Vinson, who was on federal probation in the robbery of a bank while he was on crutches, fired shots through the front door as police arrived in response to a call from Vinson's wife.

South Viet Government Abandons Fourth Province, Considers Fifth

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government is abandoning a fourth province, Quang Tri, in the face of a heavy North Vietnamese buildup and is apparently considering giving up a fifth one, Thua Thien, which includes the old imperial capital of Hue, government officials disclosed tonight.

Both are on the northern coast below the demilitarized zone.

Both Vietnamese and Western analysts said the decision was approved by President Nguyen Van Thieu and was made for strategic reasons rather than political ones.

North Vietnam reportedly has four infantry divisions and two anti-aircraft divisions in the region, outnumbering South Vietnamese regulars two-to-one.

The move follows the abandonment of the three western provinces in the central highlands — Kontum, Pleiku and Barlac. The provinces cover 11,000 square miles and have more than half a million people.

They were declared untenable two days ago after North Vietnamese forces isolated them by cutting all overland supply routes.

Actually, the North Vietnamese control most of Quang Tri province except for the provincial capital by the same name. They seized the entire province during the 1972 Easter offensive, but South Vietnamese forces did win back the provincial seat of Quang Tri City four months later.

Government officials said as many as 100,000 refugees were streaming down Highway 1 toward Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city.

Foreign relief workers said about 100,000 refugees had collected in Hue, the former imperial capital 50 miles north of Da Nang. They fled from fighting in Quang Tri province, just below the North Vietnamese border.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the government's chief military spokesman, said there are five North Vietnamese divisions, or about 30,000 troops, in the northern part of the country. He said 80 percent of them are in the Quang Tri-Hue area, where there has been heavy fighting for more than two weeks.

Hien said Hue is threatened by at least two divisions, including one that moved into the region recently.

Meanwhile, officials of the South Vietnamese ministry of social welfare said they expect as many as 450,000 refugees from the three Central Highlands provinces of Pleiku, Kontum and Barlac which the government is abandoning to the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

With the main highways to the coast cut, the swarm fleeing from the highlands stretched out from Pleiku southward along Highway 7B, heading for the coastal city of Tuy Hoa.

It appeared that most of them would not reach the safety of the coastal lowlands for three or four more days.

An exodus also was reported under way from Dalat, 140 miles northeast of Saigon in the lower central highlands. It is outside the three provinces the government is giving up, but its highway to Saigon has been cut by North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacks on Dinh Quan, a district capital 75 miles northeast of Saigon.

The government reported more Communist attacks on Dinh Quan as well as on Hoai Duc and Gia Ray, two other district capitals south of Dinh Quan. The Saigon command said nearly 200 shells were fired into Hoai Duc.

In Cambodia, about 1,000 militant university students held a four-hour rally on their campus in Phnom Penh urging the U.S. Congress to cut off aid to the Cambodian government and demanding that President Long Nol resign.

Project Mainstream Funds Are Obtained

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state Department of Human Resources says it has obtained $400,000 in federal funds to continue Project Mainstream, a program started in 1972 to develop partnerships between Jaycees and community action agencies.

The extra money will be used for economic development, housing, assistance to the elderly and manpower development.

The object of the program was to deliver better services to the poor and disadvantaged.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State Transportation Secretary John Roberts says W. A. Kendall Jr. of Frankfort has been appointed assistant director of accounts for the department.

Kendall has been with the Transportation Department since 1959.

Milton Whitehouse, an assistant director, will remain in that post and handle daily operations, while Kendall will be responsible for matters on accounting, budgeting and liaison with the Finance Department, Roberts said Tuesday.

Nearly 3 Million Pounds Burley Under Price Supports This Year

A total of 2,713,975 pounds of burley tobacco was taken under price supports during the 1974-75 marketing season by the growers' associations administering the support program in the eight-state burley belt.

The Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, which handles price support operations in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Missouri, received a total of 2,250,498 pounds, or about 44 of one per cent of sales at markets in those states. The Burley Co-Op has headquarters in Lexington, Ky.

Burley Stabilization Corp., of Knoxville, Tenn., which administers the program in Tennessee, North Carolina and Virginia, took a total of 463,477 pounds of burley—about 30 of one per cent of marketings in that area.

Alvin R. Beckley, executive secretary, said the Burley Co-Op's take included some tobacco from all of the 106 burley grades, but the heaviest receipts came from among lower quality leaf grades and nondescript-grade offerings.

Beckley noted that the burley taken from the 1974 crop already had been handled in processed-strip form and stored to await pricing and eventual sale to the trade. The current receipts represent the only uncommitted burley in the Co-Op's stocks. All holdings from previous crops have been sold or committed on deferred sales.

Gross sales of the 1974 crop totaled 665,083,523 pounds in the burley belt, but estimates are that after resales have been deducted the crop will net about 605 to 610 million pounds. Gross money for the crop totaled $756,944,551—an average for the belt-wide marketing of $113.85 per hundred pounds, the most money ever received by burley growers for a crop. The total was $295.7 million above the money received for the 1973 crop.

The Federal-State Market News Service, in its summary of the marketing season, said the highest of the daily averages for the belt was $120.18, set Monday, Dec. 9. Averages increased for all grades compared with 1973, with the majority gaining $20 to $24 a hundred pounds. The practical top prices for 1974-75, the service said, was $121 a hundred pounds with grades BLF and BLFR (leaf grades) averaging $119 per hundred for the season.

The 1974-75 marketing season began Nov. 23 and ended with a cleanup sale Feb. 24.

Base quotas for the 1975 crop have been increased 10 per cent over 1974.

VITAMINS: NATURAL OR SYNTHETIC

Is there a difference between so-called "natural" or "organic" vitamins and synthetic vitamins? The question is a legitimate one and it is important, particularly with regard to the current "back-to-nature" trends which abound in our society.

AS AN ITEM in the Journal of the American Medical Association said: "The labeling of vitamins as 'natural' implies that they have been extracted from a substance found in nature." Examples given include vitamins A and D extracted from codfish liver, vitamin E from wheat germ oil, Vitamin B12 from liver, vitamins B1 and B2 from yeast, and vitamin C from rose hips.

But because of the cost of such extracting, most vitamins sold today (with the exception of vitamin E) probably are synthetic vitamins.

SO WHAT is the difference? According to Margaria Nagy, M.S., of the AMA's Dept. of Foods and Nutrition, and author of the Journal article:

"Synthetic vitamins are those that have been manufactured by a pharmaceutical company. Biochemically, a vitamin has only one molecular structure; thus, whether a vitamin is extracted from a natural product or synthesized by the manufacturer, its structure is identical in either case, and possesses, consequently, the same biochemical activity."

But there's more to the story. One would suppose as a Berkeley, California pharmacist did, that vitamins sold as "natural" had, in fact, come from natural sources. But when he visited two manufacturers of "natural" vitamins he observed that many of the products so-labeled contained "synthetic vitamins added to the natural base."

"Rose Hips Vitamin C Tablets" had been adjusted from the original 2% to 50% by adding chemical ascorbic acid. The pharmacist, Adolph Kamil, said he was told that if no vitamin C were added the tablet "would have to be as big as a golf ball."

SIMILARLY, he found that B vitamins labeled "natural" or "organic" turned out to be "mostly synthetic chemicals added to yeast and other natural bases."

What's my point? It's not to run down vitamins in any form, natural or synthetic. But we should know what we are buying. Listen to what Pharmacist Kamil (who is in charge of consumer information and quality control for the pharmacies of the Consumers Cooperative of Berkeley, Calif.) says:

"As for me, I'm going to put my money on good food, fresh and wholesome, from a wide variety of sources, and thereby get all my nutritional needs the most natural way."

Magnesium Needed For Cows To Prevent Grass Tetany

Beef cattle producers should watch their herds closely for signs of grass tetany as spring approaches and lush young grass begins to appear. That reminder comes from John T. Johns, Extension beef cattle specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"With extra calves being kept on many farms this winter, feed supplies have been stretched to the breaking point," says Johns. "Many cows have been underfed and will be very susceptible to grass tetany this spring."

Johns explains that the primary cause of grass tetany seems to be a low level of magnesium in the blood, and this seems to be brought about by low magnesium levels in the feed. Cows getting low-quality feeds or inadequate amounts of feed may not be getting enough magnesium and may also have a lowered resistance to disease in general.

Grass tetany is most likely to occur on cool spring days when lush new grass growth is available, according to Johns. Grasses growing on soils testing high in potassium are more likely to bring about tetany cases. The animals most often hit by the disease are cows that have recently given birth to calves and are producing a heavy milk flow.

The first noticeable sign that tetany has struck is often the collapse of an animal, notes Johns. He says it is difficult to save an animal once it has collapsed. He urges cattlemen to watch for earlier symptoms, which include a stiff gait or staggering, a decrease in appetite, isolation from the herd, and a dull appearance. Animals in advanced stages of the disease may be extremely nervous and excitable. They may also breathe rapidly and have muscle tremors. Affected animals will collapse and die in a short time if they are not treated by a veterinarian.

Supplemental magnesium during the wintering period can be an effective preventative against tetany, according to Johns. He says a suitable mixture which will supply magnesium in the form of magnesium oxide is one containing 20 percent steamed bonemeal, 40 percent magnesium oxide, 20 percent plain salt and 20 percent trace mineral salt. For adequate consumption, this mixture should be the only source of salt for animals and plenty of fresh water should be available.

When additional magnesium is needed or the syndrome is complicated by low energy intake, Johns suggests free-choice feeding of a supplement containing 39 percent grain, 19 percent soybean meal, 10 percent dicalcium phosphate, seven percent magnesium oxide, and 25 percent plain salt. In very high-risk situations, the supplement should contain 66 percent grain, 17 percent soybean meal, 10 percent dicalcium phosphate, and seven percent magnesium oxide. This should be hand fed at the rate of two or three pounds per head per day.

More information on how to prevent grass tetany is available from your local county Extension agent for agriculture.

DRIVER ERRORS cause the vast majority of automobile accidents—83.2%—according to a new study made for the U.S. Department of Transportation by an Indiana University research group.

Environmental factors, such as slick roads, cause 16.4%. Vehicular factors, such as faulty brakes, under-inflated or bald tires, account for only 4.2%.

Properly maintained tires did not cause a single one of the 1,305 accidents investigated by the Institute for Research in Public Safety.

The above figures total over 100% because some accidents had more than one cause.

FAITH MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCH TO OBSERVE SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

There will be a special service at the Faith Missionary Baptist Church, Sunday, March 23, from 2:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. The church is located one mile north of Hazel, Ky., just off Hwy. 641.

There will be special singing, congregational singing, and some old-time Bible gospel preaching.

Visitors will be welcomed in a humble and friendly Christian atmosphere. Faith Missionary Baptist Church was duly organized by the authority of Emmanuel Missionary Baptist Church, on March 21, 1969, with 14 charter members. The church has grown substantially in members and financial support. Faith church is active both in home and foreign missions. We thank our Lord for the large lot and church building, and for the many visitors. We use the Bible only (KJV) in our preaching and teaching.

On July 23, 1972, a group of people met with Faith church for authority to start a mission work in Mayfield, Kentucky. The Lord blessed this work to the extent that it was necessary for this mission to be organized into a church; and on September 23, 1972, Faith Missionary Baptist Church, Graves County, Kentucky, was duly organized by authority of Faith Missionary Baptist Church, Calloway County, Ky.

May we at this time express briefly some Bible Doctrinal convictions believed and practiced at Faith Baptist Church? We will not take the space to give a Bible reference as we could and would like to do.

In answer to the question we have been asked many times: "Are you people Southern Baptist?" My answer is, "We are south of the Mason-Dixon line."

We believe in a Triune God. Three Personalities, yet one God. We believe both the Old and New Testament, that it is God's word, Holy Spirit inspired on behalf of mankind. We believe Jesus Christ is God's Virgin born Son. That He died on a cross for our sins, He was buried, and arose the third day for our justification, and that He ascended back to Heaven. We believe Jesus Christ tasted death on behalf of every man. And the only thing that keeps any person from being saved, is his own voluntary rejection of the Lord Jesus Christ. Mankind in his natural state is totally depraved. We believe in order to be saved, one must hear the gospel, then, in repentance toward God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ is salvation of the soul. This constitutes the new birth. We believe in the security of the saved, that they are kept by the power of God. We believe that only the saved are proper subjects for baptism and church membership. The Bible mode for baptism is a burial in water and raised to walk in newness of life. Being careful to maintain good works, i. e. a saved person should live like a saved person. The elements to be used in the Lord's Memorial Supper are unleavened bread and grape wine. We believe that salvation is by grace through faith, apart from works, lest any should boast. And that the blood of Jesus Christ cleanses from all sin.

Jesus said, "The law and prophets were until John." Therefore, John was the first missionary Baptist preacher. The Bible calls him a Baptist. He was a missionary, in that he was sent of God. He was a preacher, in that he came preaching. He was a missionary Baptist preacher. And according to a statement made by the apostle Peter, the twelve Apostles were baptized by John the Baptist. Jesus chose these twelve from among his disciples, and named them Apostles; and set the Apostles first in the church. Therefore, we conclude that Jesus Christ organized His church while here on earth. And he alone is its head. We believe in church perpetuity and succession. That church is local and visible. We believe in cooperating with churches of like faith and order, in the promotion of the Gospel. We believe and practice the Bible way of financial support, by tithes and offerings. We believe the saved who have departed this life are in the presence of God; and they will return with the Lord in the air and be bodily resurrected; that the living saved will be changed in a moment and caught up together with them to meet the Lord in the air. Then there will be seven years of great tribulation for those left upon the earth.

We believe the doctrine concerning the judgement seat of Christ for the saved. That they will reign with Christ on this earth a thousand years, after the tribulation days. Then, at the close of the Millennium, the wicked dead will be resurrected and judged at the great white throne and cast into the lake of fire forever. The revelation tells us of a new heaven and a new earth; of a glorious city, the new Jerusalem. Oh, the things that God has prepared for His blood-redempted children! No sin, or tears, pain, or death, and to be with Him forevermore.

Visit with us at Faith Missionary Baptist Church. You are always welcome. We are studying the book of Revelation, Sunday nights and Wednesday nights.

We also invite you to hear our home missionary, Bro. Montelle Paschall, every other Sunday morning at 6:45 a. m. on WNBS radio.

VIOLINISTS PLAY ON KREISLER BIRTHDAY

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Twenty-seven advanced violin students who study with Josef Gingold at Indiana University performed in unison at a concert here observing the centenary of the violinist and composer, Fritz Kreisler.

They played Kreisler's "Praeludium and Allegro." Prof. Gingold played the first violin part in a performance of Kreisler's only string quartet, composed in 1919, with Eva Janzer, cello, Yurval Yaron, second violin, and Chihiro Kudo, viola.

Part of a famous recording by Kreisler and Rachmaninoff of Schubert's "Duo in A Major" was played. The rest of the program was devoted to solo performances of best-loved Kreisler pieces, including "Caprice Viennois," "La Gitana," "Recitativo and Scherzo Caprice" and "Tambourin Chinois." Kreisler, who died in 1962, was born Feb. 2, 1875, in Vienna. He became famous as a child and later was one of the most popular artists who has ever lived.

Retail Sales Here Show Big Gain In 1974 Chamber Barometer Reveals Best Year In History; 1975 Expected To Be Even Better

Some good news for the local economy was revealed Monday afternoon when the Murray Chamber of Commerce released its annual Business Barometer, a compilation of sales and income figures at the local level.

Retail sales in Calloway County leaped from $60,888,000 in 1973 to $91,164,000 in 1974, a gain of $30,276,000. In Murray, retail sales jumped from a 1973 figure of $51,712,000 to $77,554,000 in 1974, an increase of $25,842,000. The total tax assessment for Calloway County for 1974 was reported as $217,317,075.

"In spite of the layoffs, it is the biggest year in history and our projection for 1975 is even bigger," Jim Johnson, executive secretary of the chamber told the board members at the meeting, Johnson said that inflation did enter into the increase somewhat but added that "these (projection) figures have been running within one-half of one per cent accurate for years."

The barometer projected total retail sales in Calloway County to reach $99,988,000 in 1975 while income was expected to climb to $110,209,000. Assets of local banks and savings and loans increased almost $8.5 million from 1973 to 1974, to a total of $124,444,957.19. Postal receipts, which showed a drop from $507,978 in 1973 to $497,162 in 1974, almost $11,000, surged to a new record figure of $609,563 in 1974.

Another big gainer from 1973 to 1974 was vehicle registrations which jumped from 21,520 to 26,944; telephone stations increase by almost a thousand, from 14,287, to 15,204 and electricity, water and natural gas connections were all reported up in 1974.

Population-wise, the report showed an increase in the residents of Murray from 15,324 in 1973 to 16,158 in 1974 and an increase in Calloway County from 30,350 to 30,957. Projections for 1975 predict Murray's population to increase to 16,310 and Calloway County to 31,154.

Combined sales of nine categories of merchandisers reveal the major retail sales increases for 1974.

A total of 24 lumber and hardware dealers in Calloway County increased their sales from $6,954,000 in 1973, to a whopping $12,289,000 in 1974.

Figures from 32 local restaurant operations, which had increased annual sales by less than $500,000 from 1967 through 1973, jumped by over $2 million between 1973 and 1974, from $2,812,000 to $4,971,000.

Sales at 52 food stores in the county, which increased from $14.6 million in 1972 to $15.4 million in 1973 boomed to $20.8 million in 1974.

Sales at nine general merchandise stores were listed as $5.7 million for 1974 compared with $3.2 million in 1973 and $3 million in 1972.

Retail auto dealers increased their sales by $6.2 million, from $18.8 million in 1973 to $25 million in 1974. Gasoline dealers were up by over $2 million, from $5.1 million in 1973 to $7.7 million in 1974. Apparel stores increased sales from $2.9 million in 1973 to $3.7 million in 1974 and furniture stores jumped from $3.9 million in sales in 1973 to $6 million in 1974.

Figures for eight drug stores, whose sales had increased from $1,052,000 in 1971 to $1,191,000 in 1973, jumped to $1,759,000 in 1974.

Supreme Court Rules Social Security Law Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled without dissent today that a federal law granting Social Security benefits to widows but not widowers is unconstitutional.

"It is no less important for a child to be cared for by its sole surviving parent when that parent is male rather than female," Justice William J. Brennan Jr. said for the court.

In a separate concurring opinion, Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. said that "when the mother is a principal wage earner, the family may suffer as great an economic deprivation upon her death as would occur upon the death of a father wage earner."

In another separate opinion, Justice William H. Rehnquist said it is "irrational to distinguish between mothers and fathers when the sole question is whether a child of a deceased contributing worker should have the opportunity to receive the full-time attention of the only parent remaining to it."

Although there was no dissent from the decision, Justice William O. Douglas did not participate since the court heard arguments on the case after he suffered a stroke on Dec. 31.

The government has estimated that in 1974 alone the cost of extending benefits to widowers and their children would have been $20 million.

The court held that Social Security benefits must be distributed according to classifications which do not differentiate on the basis of sex.

The government contended in arguments before the court that the distinction between widows and widowers was intended to provide an income to women who were unable to provide for themselves because of economic discrimination.

The court rejected this argument and said the purpose was to permit women to stay home and devote themselves to the care of children. The court said this purpose does not justify a sex-based distinction which it said diminishes the protection afforded to women who do work.

The court's decision upheld a ruling by three U.S. district judges in New Jersey in a case in which a man sought benefits after the death of his wife, who was a schoolteacher.

The man, Stephen C. Wiesenfeld, was told he was not entitled to benefits because they could be paid only to women.

The law provides Social Security benefits for widows with minor children in their care, based on their deceased husband's earnings, but does not provide similar benefits for widowers.

Throughout the Wiesenfeld marriage, Mrs. Wiesenfeld's earnings as a teacher exceeded those of her husband, court records showed.

A Supreme Court decision issued Tuesday curbs the power of federal judges to act on complaints by individuals that their rights are being violated under state laws.

Dissenting justices said the decision "turns the clock back."

The 6-3 ruling Tuesday was a followup to a controversial ruling in 1971 that federal courts may not interfere, except in extraordinary circumstances, with criminal cases which are pending in state courts.

What the court has done now is to say that in some circumstances the same rule applies to civil proceedings.

The ruling on the power of federal judges came in the case of an Ohio theater which was padlocked by local authorities for a year as a "nuisance" for showing films found to be obscene.

The theater owner filed suit in U.S. District Court and obtained a ruling from a three-judge panel that use of the nuisance law for such a purpose was an unconstitutional restraint on freedom of expression.

In setting aside this ruling, the Supreme Court observed through Justice William H. Rehnquist that the theater owner should have been required to appeal the nuisance abatement in state courts before having access to the federal court system, unless he could approve that there were extraordinary circumstances.

The justices sent the case back to the District Court level to determine whether such circumstances existed.

The 1971 ruling permits federal courts to intervene when they find state prosecutions are based on harassment or bad faith or where the law is "flagrantly and patently" unconstitutional.

Justice William J. Brennan, writing for the dissenters, said the decision was "only the first step" toward extending the rule enunciated for criminal cases to cover all civil proceedings.

Although a federal law passed in 1973 forbids federal injunctions in state cases, the Supreme Court repeatedly has allowed exceptions to this rule.

"Today's extension ... turns the clock back and portends once again the resuscitation of the literal command of the 1973 anti-injunction act," wrote Brennan.

Joining him in his dissent were Justices William O. Douglas and Thurgood Marshall.

LEAVING FOR MEMORIAL SERVICE — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, left, and Mrs. Artemis Garofalidou, sister of the late Aristotle Onassis, leave the chapel at the American Hospital in Paris, France, after memorial services for him.

Onassis Empire Expected To Continue To Flourish

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Aristotle Onassis' empire, a spider's web of international corporations, is expected to remain intact and continue flourishing.

Although Onassis made the key decisions, he had some of the world's most talented businessmen advising him in the accumulation and control of an empire estimated at more than $1 billion. His advisers sit in London, Monte Carlo and New York, the control points for worldwide interests in shipping, real estate, mining and a variety of other fields.

His 24-year-old daughter Christina inherits the bulk of his estate. After the death of her only brother two years ago, she reportedly grew close to her father and showed a good mind for business.

Most of Onassis' many tankers and other ships, whether directly or indirectly controlled by him, are owned by Panamanian corporations. Of the 60 ships Onassis directly controlled through his Springfield Shipping Co., 59 fly the Panamanian flag with only one under Greek registry.

Onassis' luxurious 325-foot motor yacht, the Christina, is also registered in Panama.

Registry in Panama, Monaco and other tax shelters for Onassis' ships and the corporations controlling his other interests allowed him to escape taxation in the capitals from which he operated. The magnate himself reportedly held three passports, from Argentina, Monaco and Greece.

"Unravelling his empire would be like playing three dimensional backgammon," a shipping source in Athens said.

Rival Greek shipowners who feared his competitiveness admired his business acumen.

Greek shipping magnate John Theodoropoulos described Onassis as "the founder of the present magnificent Greek shipping world. He revolutionized the building of new ships with his brilliant idea of paying for them with charters."

Under this system, Onassis would meet construction costs by chartering out a ship — to an oil company, for example — to carry cargo. The charters were usually for long periods.

Although Onassis once described himself as a "buyer, not a seller," he renounced operation rights to Olympic Airways of Greece last December after owning the airline since 1956. He decided to dump the airline following the sharp increase in oil prices, and the government was reported planning to pay him more than $70 million for his share of the line.

Onassis' American shipping interests are controlled through an American trust fund set up by Eliot Bailen, a New York lawyer and close Onassis adviser.

More Than Half Of Proposed Bell Hike Would Pay Taxes

South Central Bell has filed new tariffs to cover the increased costs of providing telephone service. The tariffs would increase the company's annual revenues by $33 million—more than half of which would go to pay taxes.

The major rate changes in the company's request to the Kentucky Public Service Commission include:

—higher rates for long distance calls within Kentucky, with the largest increases generally on calls requiring operator assistance;

—increases in basic telephone rates that range from $1.15 to $2.18 per month for residence service, and from $2.34 to $6.11 for business service. In Murray, the one-party residence service rate would be $7.51 per month.

—increases in rates for certain optional equipment, residence extensions and service connections.

The company's request also includes proposals which would benefit all customers through a reduction in rates for local service of 50 cents per line per month. These proposals would change the method of charging for Directory Assistance calls, and increase the charge for local calls from coin telephones from 10 cents to 20 cents. Both would require equipment modifications, and could not be implemented immediately upon approval. But when they become effective, monthly rates would be reduced.

Telephone service will remain a bargain even under the new rates, Paul D. McCandless, vice president in charge of Kentucky operations for the company, pointed out. "Even with this increase," he said, "the overall price of telephone service in Kentucky will have increased only one-third as much as consumer prices in general since 1960.

"The rates we're charging today are simply too low to cover today's costs of providing good quality telephone service," McCandless said.

"Our request is made in the best interests of Kentuckians who want good telephone service now and in the future. We're simply asking the commission to take a look at all of the higher costs of providing telephone service, and to set rates accordingly," he said.

McCandless emphasized that all the proposed increases are caused by increased costs, including the cost of borrowing money. He pointed out that last September, South Central, for its five state operations, borrowed $225 million for 40 years. "It cost the company 10.14 percent," he said. "And, of course, to be able to use borrowed money, we must be able to pay for it."

Balance Of Payments Deficit Sets Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation closed out last year with the biggest three-month deficit on record for its basic balance of payments, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department reported that the balance was in deficit by $5.9 billion in the last quarter of the year, a deterioration from $3.9 billion for the previous quarter.

Over the year, the balance ran a $10.6 billion deficit for the second worst annual performance since Commerce began keeping a check in 1960. The annual total compared to a $11.2 billion deficit in 1972, just before two successive devaluations of the dollar. The quarterly figure surpassed a previous record of $3.9 billion in the first three months of 1972.

The balance of payments reflects the flow of money across the nation's borders. The deficit meant more dollars were being sent abroad for investment or purchase of imported goods than were being brought into the United States.

"It's obvious," McCandless continued, "that if you borrow money at ten percent, invest it, and your investment produces less than ten percent, you can't pay the interest cost."

Without being able to pay the interest cost to borrow money, the company would be forced to cut back on its expenditures. McCandless said. He pointed out that a combination of cutbacks in expenditures and the downturn in the economy could mean less work for telephone employees. "We must continually adjust our work force and expenses to stay within the revenues available to support them," he said.

In its petition, the company stated that the filed tariffs, were based on 1974 operations and that in the year after proposed rates would go into effect they would fall short of covering expected costs by about $6 million.

Senate Votes To Limit Oil Depletion Allowances Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a surprisingly quick vote to limit the oil depletion allowance, the Senate is ready to consider whether a massive tax-reduction bill should include a provision cutting into the overseas profits of U.S. oil companies.

The Senate today resumes its consideration of a $29.2-billion tax cut, the largest in the nation's history, after voting 47 to 41 Tuesday night to repeal the oil-depletion tax break for the major petroleum companies but to continue it for independent producers.

There are approximately 10,000 independent producers and they account for about 80 percent of oil drilling in the United States.

Although the final language of the continuing tax break for the independents is subject to change, Chairman Russell B. Long of the Senate Finance Committee said the vote assures that a limit on the depletion allowance will be included in the final Senate bill.

Carroll Says Funds To Go To Local Schools

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll says supplemental funds will be allocated soon to local school districts to help them balance their budgets.

The Department of Education is supplying officials of the Department for Finance and Administration with information on the problems of the public schools, Carroll said Tuesday night.

"Let me assure you that I am aware of your difficulties," the governor told delegates at the closing session of the Kentucky School Board's Association's convention.

"Within the next few weeks we will have determined what your needs are and we will be making, within the limits of our available resources, an allocation to meet those needs," he said.

The executive director of the organization, Maurice Bement, told the delegates earlier that one-third of Kentucky's 183 school districts will be close to financial trouble by the end of the current year.

The problem has been caused, he said, by increased costs of fuel and educational supplies.

Carroll also said that a method which computes state funding to pupils by the programs they are in would require increased record keeping and more complex accounting methods.

"I wonder how many districts are set up to do this kind of accounting," he said.

Home Prices Skyrocket In Alaska Due To Oil Pipeline

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Construction of the Trans-Alaska oil pipeline is bringing big money to this town. It is also bringing big headaches for persons looking for a place to live.

Consider these real estate listings:

—Two rooms and two five-gallon water jugs for $500 a month.

—An unfinished home, without water, for $700 a month.

—A hallway converted into an apartment for $300 a month.

"People just want the money from the pipeline," says a woman whose family is house-hunting. "My husband isn't even affiliated with it. People are renting anything and renters will give anything for it just to have a place to call home."

and their three children are staying in an apartment. Across the hall in a three-bedroom apartment is a family of 10. The rent is $600 a month plus electricity.

One man who finally found an unfurnished, two-bedroom home for $600 said he feels very fortunate. One place he looked at rented for $500 a month. To move in, he said he would have been required to pay the first and last month's rent in advance and a $150 cleaning deposit.

"It was dirty, the furniture was beat up, the carpet had holes in it and the oven door was falling off," he said. "My wife said she just wouldn't live there."

He said he assumes someone moved in — the ad disappeared.

One woman is living in what she describes as a "hole in the ground." There is no running water in the tiny cabin. But she FAMED CHOIR IN CONCERT—The Belhaven College Concert Choir will be presented in concert on Sunday morning, March 23 at First Presbyterian Church in Murray as a part of a 12-day tour of the southern states. Under the direction of Henry Thomas Ford, the choir has performed in hundreds of churches and music halls throughout the nation and in Europe.

Famed Belhaven College Choir To Perform Concert Here Sunday

The famed Belhaven College Concert Choir of Jackson, Miss., acclaimed at home and abroad for its musical excellence - will be presented in concert in Murray at First Presbyterian Church on March 23.

Performing in Murray as a part of a 12-day tour of the southern states, the Belhaven Singers will sing selections from their Spring Tour repertoire.

The choir has performed in hundreds of churches throughout the nation and in cathedrals and music halls in eight foreign countries.

Their voices have been raised in song in Alabama's nationally known scenic attraction Bellingrath Gardens, the Natchez Pilgrimage, the rotunda of the old Senate office building in the nation's capital, Hodges Gardens in Louisiana and Wanamaker's in Philadelphia.

The choir toured Europe in 1972 under the auspices of Concerts Abroad singing 14 concerts including concerts in Notre Dame and Westminster Abbey.

The choir has been invited to perform for Music Educators National Conference in Chicago, Southern Regional MENC in Mobile, Southeastern Choral Conductors Conference at LSU and the National Presbyterian Church in Washington, D. C.

Presentation of a major work is the highlight of each year and included in their repertoire are the Magnificat (Bach), Utrecht Te Deum (Handel), Stabat Mater (Schubert) and a commissioned work - Missa Cum Jubilo Opus 90 (Paul Creston). Appearances with the Jackson Metropolitan Symphony Orchestra always draw accolades for the choir.

The choir was selected by Jackson Symphony Orchestra to sing the commissioned work "Mississippi Heritage of Folk Songs" to commemorate the Bicentennial Celebration.

Belhaven's 1974-75 choir is made up of students from Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Maryland. The choir's 1974 Fall Concert included two Bach Motets for Double Choir - Der Geist dem Herrn and Singet dem Herrn. The choir annually forms the core of the famed Belhaven College Singing Christmas Tree which traditionally heralds the yuletide season for Mississippians.

Henry Thomas Ford is in his thirteenth year as director of the Concert Choir.

Belhaven College is a four-year coeducational college of liberal arts and sciences located in Jackson, Miss. The college is Presbyterian-related.

Could you pass this Red Cross swimming test?

SWIM:

1. Breaststroke - 100 Yds.
2. Sidestroke - 100 Yds.
3. Crawl stroke - 100 Yds.
4. Back crawl - 50 Yds.
5. On back (legs only) - 50 Yds.
6. Turns (on front, back, side).
7. Surface dive - underwater swim - 20 Ft.
8. Disrobe - float with clothes - 5 mins.
9. Long shallow dive.
10. Running front dive.
11. 10-minute swim.

Anybody who's taken a Red Cross swim course knows how tough it can be. There's a good reason.

We believe drowning is a serious business.

Last year alone, we taught 2,589,203 Americans not to drown - in the seven different swim courses we offer all across the country. (Incidentally, most of the teaching - as with almost everything American Red Cross does - is done by dedicated volunteers.)

A good many of the youngsters not only are learning to keep themselves safe. Thousands upon thousands of them are learning to become lifesavers.

And the life they save - may be your own.

Pancreatic Cancer Diagnosis Studied

CHICAGO (AP) — The University of Chicago has received a National Cancer Institute grant for $175,000 to study early diagnosis of pancreatic cancer.

Jack Benny died of cancer of the pancreas in December, a week after the cancer was discovered by X-ray.

Dr. A.R. Moossa, who will be principal investigator under the contract, said, "It is obvious that pancreatic carcinoma is diagnosed too late in the vast majority of cases. A concentrated effort in early diagnosis is clearly indicated, since the disease ranks fourth after lung, colon and rectal and breast cancer in mortality statistics.

The research will be coordinated with similar NCI-funded studies at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and the Sloan-Kettering Institute in New York.

Follow-Up Interviews Scheduled

Follow-up in-depth interviews by Murray State University students studying the needs of rural elderly people in the eight-county Jackson Purchase will be conducted March 22-April 7.

Tom Massie, director of the Rural Elderly Needs Project, said students will visit in the homes of about 250 people 60 years of age and older in Ballard, Calloway, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, McCracken, Carlisle and Marshall counties.

Designed to assess specific needs, the spring interviews are a second phase of the pilot project begun last fall. The project is funded by a $57,000 grant from the Kentucky Department of Human Resources through Title VI of the U. S. Social Security Act.

Initial interviews were conducted in November with areas of emphasis designated as income, nutrition, medical services, housing and counseling. Spring interviews will be focused directly on the greatest areas of need as determined by an evaluation of the fall interviews.

Recommendations based on the study findings will be made to state and federal government agencies as to how the needs of the elderly in the Jackson Purchase can be more fully met by using available resources and by developing new ones.

Students doing the field work represent the areas of business, geography, home economics, nursing and social work.

Furniture And Wood Products Made By Mountain Craftsmen

Woodworking—whether it be cabinetmaking, furniture woodcrafting or even "cottage steps whittling," has for generation to generation been a strong tradition in the Cumberland Plateau of Eastern Kentucky. And the abundant hardwoods of the Appalachians have provided mountaineer craftsmen with perhaps the choicest wood on earth to work with.

In an age of automation, the old-time craftsmanship of the Appalachians survives at Stanton Woodcraft, in Powell County. Craftsmen there still make furniture as useful as it is beautiful. Rocking chairs, kneehole desks, shaving mirrors of early American design, provincial and Shaker furniture, wooden bowls, and fruit sculptured from walnut, cherry and cedar, are among the products made and sold at Stanton Woodcraft, east of Stanton on Highway Ky-18.

Formed in 1973, Stanton Woodcraft is an economic development project of the Kentucky River Foothills, a federally funded Community Action Agency. It serves the counties of Estill, Clark, Powell and Madison, providing jobs for veterans and disadvantaged mountain craftsmen. The non-profit business is a complete operation that encompasses the purchasing of raw lumber; drying; grading and selection of materials for production; finishing, and marketing.

The handcrafted wood products are wholesaled to craft, gift and interior design shops in Kentucky. They are for sale in the gift shops at Kentucky Dam Village State Resort Park and Fort Boonesborough State Park, and at the rest stop at Beaver Dam on the Western Kentucky Parkway. During the summer, a sales outlet is open at Natural Bridge State Resort Park.

Choice Appalachian hardwoods—cherry, wormy chestnut, walnut, tulip poplar, butternut and maple—are used for the ladder-back chairs, muffin stands, Charlotte chairs—a padded dining chair in traditional early American style—dining tables, hutches, cabinets, cutting boards, bookends and beds. The furniture is constructed with impeccable care and is completed with a coat of sealer and lacquer and hand rubbed with furniture wax. The ladder-back chairs are hand seated with twisted corn shucks.

Stanton Woodcraft's own outlet shop sells wood finishes and cabinetmaker's polish. Baskets made by Indians on Cherokee reservations, beeswax candles and wooden hand-painted birds—hawks, owls and songbirds—are among the craft items. Scenes of Appalachia and the Red River Gorge, by photographer Warren Brunner of Berea, stand alongside the handmade wood products of Kentucky's proud artisans.

Visitors are welcome to tour the production facilities and browse through the outlet shop weekdays, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.; Saturdays, 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and Sundays, 1:00 to 8:00 p.m. From January through March, Stanton Woodcraft is closed on weekends.

Trees Aid Environment

It's tree planting time again and, according to Jim Newman, Extension forester with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, when a landowner sets out a sapling or plants a new forest he is not only providing for future shade or financial security, but may also be contributing to the future quality of life in other ways.

Trees have long been recognized for their role in soil and water conservation, but only in recent years has their importance in producing oxygen we breathe in and consuming the carbon dioxide we breathe out been realized. This transformation, which means so much to animal and human health, takes place in the leaves through the process of photosynthesis.

As Newman explains it, photosynthesis is the food manufacturing process carried on by plants whereby water absorbed by the roots and carbon dioxide taken from the air are combined to form a simple sugar. As the word "photo" implies, light supplies the energy. Oxygen is given off as a by-product.

And how much oxygen do trees produce? Newman says that scientists have estimated that for every pound of wood a tree produces, it consumes almost two pounds of carbon dioxide and releases about a pound and a half of oxygen into the atmosphere to be breathed by man and animals. This becomes important, he adds, when one considers that the average man consumes about one pound of oxygen daily. These same scientists have also estimated that an acre of healthy, well-managed trees can supply the daily oxygen needs of 18 humans.

However, only young and vigorously growing trees can produce this amount of oxygen, Newman points out. As a forest matures, it becomes less efficient as a producer of excess oxygen, as more and more is used by decaying vegetative matter and increased respiration. Mature trees and old-growth forests may consume as much or more oxygen than they produce. Thus, harvesting and use of mature trees not only keeps our forests young and vigorous but also keeps the environment in a healthy condition. Therefore, the planting of trees and the natural establishment of new forests is doubly important.

Trees and plants, Newman continues, also absorb some ozone and sulphur dioxide from the air, but he adds that overdoses of these pollutants will kill them.

All this should be reason and encouragement enough for homeowners and landowners to plant a tree or establish a patch of woods on their premises. Developers of parks, parkways, and subdivisions will also do well to include trees in their plans, not only for the amount of precious oxygen they can manufacture, but also because they can make any area more beautiful, livable, and

Kentucky Military History Living Through New Museum

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Kentucky's rich military history—existing even before the area attained statehood—is outlined through exhibits in one of the state's newest museums.

The Kentucky Military History Museum, located in Frankfort's Old State Arsenal, marked its first anniversary Feb. 18 without particular notice, but that may be changing. Nearly 20,000 visitors toured the museum in the first year and even more are expected next year.

Bringing attention to the museum is part of the Kentucky National Guard's "March is Minuteman Month" campaign. The museum was created through the joint efforts of the state Department of Military Affairs and the Kentucky Historical Society, two organizations which still share its sponsorship.

The Arsenal itself is a perfect location for such a museum, for it is rich in military history. Built and first occupied as a storehouse for weapons in 1850, the building was controlled by both the Union and Confederate troops at various periods of the Civil War and housed troops until after World War II. The building has survived fires, an accidental explosion and an assault by John Hunt Morgan's raiders.

Even the curtains, made from old parachutes by Mrs. Eugenia Blackburn of the Historical Society, reflect the military atmosphere.

An unusual tomahawk-pipe that belonged to Pontiac, the Indian chief, can be seen in one display case.

A replica of Daniel Boone's rifle is in the adjacent case, as are other similar items from the period. The real Boone rifle is considered too valuable to keep on display, so it remains in a vault.

Other exhibits on the ground floor include a pistol used by Isaac Shelby, Kentucky's first governor; General Ethan Allen's sword; and the pistol used by Vice President Aaron Burr when he killed Alexander Hamilton in a duel July 11, 1804.

Also displayed is the silver service from the Battleship Kentucky, on loan to the museum until another ship named Kentucky is commissioned. The case also contains a portion of the bottle of spring water used by Christine Bradley, daughter of Governor William Bradley, to christen the battleship.

Assistant curator Nick Hughes said that, according to all reports, Miss Bradley was a strong backer of the Women's Christian Temperance movement and felt that the spring water should replace the traditional champagne. As the report goes, however, less temperate Kentuckians performed the honors with bourbon on one side of the ship, while Miss Bradley christened the ship with spring water on the other side.

The upper floor of the museum is devoted primarily to weapons and the Kentucky National Guard. Nearly every type of weapon used by Kentuckians in battle is represented.

Displays on that floor also demonstrate the role Kentuckians have played in the development of weapons. For example, the Thompson sub-machine gun, better known as the "Tommy gun," in vogue during the 1920s and 1930s was developed by General John T. Thompson of Newport.

Hughes and his research assistant, Mike Housh, say they have numerous new exhibits in the works as well as expansions in some current displays. Planned additions include displays of Kentucky's Medal of Honor winners, a diorama of the Battle of Perryville and artifacts of several Civil War heroes.

Many of the items now on display were part of the Smithsonian Institute's collection until the Kentucky museum opened. Others were donated by people interested in preserving the state's military heritage. Hughes explained that they are always interested in receiving items for possible display and that donations are tax-deductible.

Prison Industries Still Show Profit Despite Economic Slump

FRANKFORT, Ky. — At least one multi-million dollar business in Kentucky has raised its workers' wages, lowered its customers' prices and still managed to make a profit last year.

From delicately scented hand soaps, wool socks and upholstered easy chairs to license plates, school lockers and automated record processing, the tally sheet of products and services offered is almost as startling as the locations which crank them out.

All of the factories and offices are located inside the walls and fences surrounding Kentucky's largest correctional institutions — the state penitentiary near Eddyville, the reformatory near LaGrange and the correctional institution for women near Pewee Valley.

Although sales for 1971 totaled more than one million dollars, Kentucky Correctional Industries (KCI) still dropped $44,000 in the red. Administrators of the program attributed the shaky financial status to mismanagement, poor quality of goods and high prices.

Two years later, the color of the ledgers turned black. After a complete overhaul of the industries and management, the program reported a profit of more than $300,000, all of which was poured back into the business.

Today, five large prison industries' trucks, bought with part of a $2 million annual sales receipt, carry manufactured goods from prison factories to customers.

From director to inmates, salaries are paid entirely out of the industries' profits. Although the inmates' salaries don't compare with wages outside prison walls, the pay scale was vastly improved when it was raised from six to 15 cents an hour in 1972, to eight to 20 cents an hour the following year. Bonus incentives also have been added for months when production quotas are exceeded.

The fringe benefits are few, but paid yearly vacations (from the job only, not the institution), coffee breaks and other characteristics of regular employment have been added to prepare inmates for outside employment.

Cancer, heart kill 3 out of 4

Nearly 3 in 4 ordinary life insurance policyholders who die in this country are listed as having died from either heart-kidney diseases or cancer.

The cardiovascular-renal diseases, according to the Institute of Life Insurance, accounted for more than half the deaths while cancer claimed more than one-fifth of those who died in 1973; pneumonia and influenza, combined, were responsible for 2.9 per cent of policyholder deaths — the third most frequent natural cause of death reported. — CNS

As a result of the changes, production increased and morale got a needed boost. As an important by-product, the quality of the goods also improved dramatically.

As the working situation has improved, so too have the rehabilitative aspects.

"Rehabilitation is the key to the whole idea of industrializing prisons," said Charles J. Holmes, Kentucky Corrections Commissioner. "Our main goal is to provide inmates with training in a skill they can use when they leave."

Holmes then noted that the recidivism rate (the number of ex-offenders who return to prison) for worker-inmates last year was better than that for the general prison population.

Kentucky's Correctional Industries only employs approximately 350 of the institutions' 3,000 inmates. However, there are plans for a new industry and the expansion of others, which will increase the present work force by more than 500 individuals.

David Adams, KCI director, said most of last year's $100,000 profit will be used to purchase raw materials for a tire-recapping business at the reformatory. The plant will be located in a building left vacant by the transfer of the clothing factory to the penitentiary.

Studies have shown a viable market exists for recapped tires. Initially, the reformatory plant will turn out recapped tires for the state department of transportation. It has been estimated that the work can be done at one-third the cost of new tires.

Of the 900 inmates at Eddyville penitentiary, more than half have added their names to the waiting list for jobs in the prison's clothing and furniture factories. Some aren't suited to the farm work and others are impressed by the higher wages paid KCI than for other inmate work.

The machinery at the Eddyville plant is complex — ranging from single stitch sewing machines to automated knitting mills which weave rough cotton yarn into socks. Other machines turn out chambray work shirts for inmates, uniforms for guards and surgical gowns and jackets which are sold to various state-supported institutions.

Modern walnut-grained, wood-topped and steel-legged office furniture is constructed by inmates in the furniture plant. In another large room, antique tables and chairs are painstakingly refinished by other men working with sanding machines and wood stain. A complete furniture upholstery shop is in the rear of the plant. Ironically, the inmate-workers also make riot control sticks for the state police.

KCI's keypunch operation was moved across the state from Eddyville to the women's prison when the directors learned it was easier for women to find employment in the keypunch field.

Housed on the first floor of what was once an old barn on the grounds of the Pewee Valley facility, the industries area could easily pass for a busy data processing center in any business office.

The old hay balers are gone. In their place, 16 keypunch machines and eight magnetic disc machines fill the air with hectic hum and chatter each day from 8:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

On a typical day, the women process data received from the state's toll road plazas, the council on higher education and state health programs. Under the law requiring state-supported agencies to make use of prison-made products and services, the plant serves a dual purpose. The women learn and the state benefits from their work.

Before the plant was moved from the penitentiary, the women had little opportunity to train for jobs other than those related to prison maintenance.

The first year the processing center was in operation, 12 women found employment in keypunch jobs outside prison. For some, it was the first time they had ever had the opportunity to earn a liveable salary.

In conjunction with the data processing experience, the women also attended vocational classes to learn or polish up on other office skills and procedures.

Despite the strides correctional industries has made in the last three years, there still have been problems. The biggest of which has been the economy.

Rising costs have cut into the fledgling profits and the unavailability of certain products has forced the industries to turn to more expensive sources of raw materials. This reduced KCI's profit level last year to five per cent. While other businesses are producing cheaper and poorer quality goods in an effort to beat the present economic lag, KCI does not plan to join that parade.

"Our salvation has been an improvement in quality," said Holmes, "and correctional industries fully intends to follow those same standards in the future."

Rumor Denied By VA Officials

The news media in the midwest have been asked to help the Veterans Administration prevent the spread of a rumor stating there is an insurance dividend due World War II veterans from the year 1948.

At this time the rumor is circulating in the "Chicago area," as mail is being received by the insurance center in Fort Snelling, Minn., from that area. Last week the center received 99 applications for the non-existent "dividend."

During the past year 2,411 letters were received and since the rumor first started making the rounds in January 1969, a total of 369,580 veterans have written.

"In view of the fact there is no such 1948 dividend, it is time consuming and costly to the VA to respond to these inquiries," a VA spokesman pointed out.

The rumor rears its head periodically usually in house bulletins, veterans publications and bulletin boards. At this time the VA does not know who is circulating the rumor but hopes it can be stopped before an avalanche of mail descends on the insurance center again.

GI Vets Eligible For School Loan Funds

Veterans attending college under the GI Bill and who experience economic difficulties are eligible to apply for a loan up to $600 in one academic year from the Veterans Administration.

Robert F. Welch, director of the regional office of the VA in Louisville, said the loans were available as a result of new legislation enacted in December.

The VA has also made it easier for student veterans to secure a loan by requiring only two rejections from local lenders for a guaranteed student loan instead of the previous five rejections.

Welch said the effective date for the loan program was January 1 but that all eligible veterans, wives, widows and children will be considered for initial loans based upon the full amount of their tuition and all other costs of attendance anticipated for the entire 1974-1975 academic year.

Under the new law, those granted loans will be required to sign promissory notes agreeing to repayment of principal plus 8 per cent interest. Repayment will be delayed while the student is attending classes at least on a half-time basis, but installments must start nine months after the student ceases less than half-time enrollment. Full repayment must be made within 10 years and nine months after that date. Interest does not accrue until the required beginning date of repayment.

The student applicant must have exhausted all efforts to obtain student loans administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Welch said forms to apply for the loan are available from the Veterans Administration, 600 Federal Place, Louisville, 40202, through Vet Reps on Campus, or through service organization representatives.

Community Action Agencies Receive Money From State

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Gov. Julian M. Carroll and C. Leslie Dawson, secretary of the Department for Human Resources (DHR), have announced the allocation of $1,096,635 in federal funds for local Community Action Agencies and one board of education to continue programs presently in operation.

In Western Kentucky, grants were awarded to the Henderson - Union - Webster Development Council of Henderson in the amount of $26,000. Also, the Pennyville Allied Community Services, Inc., Hopkinsville, was granted $386,606 to provide a full year, part-day Head Start program for disadvantaged pre-school children served by the agency.

Community Action Agencies are local administrative units dealing with services to the needy. They are an outgrowth of the former Office of Economic Opportunity and were established in 1965.

These agencies operate on a regional basis and deliver services geared to the needs of the local people. In this way, the people have a voice in establishing the particular program for their area.

Several different programs are presently in operation and funds recently allocated will enable the agency to continue them. Examples of the various projects which can be financed with these federal monies are: Head Start programs, which provide pre-school training for children from low income families. Head Start, under CAA guidelines, also provides medical and dental services for the child.

Neighborhood Youth Corps, a program established in 1964, which provides poverty-level youth with paid jobs to encourage them to continue their education. It also provides remedial education, work experience and training in the out-of-school program.

Emergency Food and Medical Services, which offers immediate relief for the needy during crisis situations such as the April, 1974 tornados and assists seasonal or migrant farm workers and the jobless while they are applying for other types of assistance. Energy Crisis funds, which help lessen the impact of the energy crunch on the poor. Their use includes helping to prevent utility cut-offs, to winterize homes or to obtain standby living accommodations. The funds, awarded under the Economic Opportunity Act, are administered by the DHR's Bureau for Social Services.

Supplemental Food Available

FRANKFORT, Ky. — For a year now, the Special Supplemental Foods Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) has been supplying nutritious foods to Kentucky residents.

At no cost, WIC supplies milk, eggs, cheese, fruit juices, iron-fortified formula, baby cereal and other nutritious foods to nursing or pregnant women, infants and children up to age four. Kentucky's Bureau for Health Services in the Department for Human Resources (DHR) administers the federally funded program.

Participating counties in the eastern part of the state are Bell, Boyd, Breathitt, Carter, Clinton, Cumberland, Elliott, Floyd, Harlan, Knott, Lawrence, Leslie, Letcher, Perry, Pulaski and Wayne counties. They serve over 5,000 individuals.

Kentucky's WIC program is funded through June 30, 1975 with $3.1 million. Statewide, WIC serves about 10,000 individuals in 25 counties.

Federal guidelines specify that individuals are eligible if:

— They live in an approved area served by an approved health clinic;
— They are eligible for free or reduced cost medical treatment from the county;

— They are determined by the clinic's professional staff to need supplemental foods.

In most instances, WIC foods are distributed through local health department clinics. In some cases independent health clinics have qualified to distribute WIC foods to eligible individuals. The interested individual can get in touch with the local health department to find out where to go to get WIC foods.

Example: Sugar...10 lb....$3.99; Crisco...3 lb....$1.92; Richtex Shortening...3 lb. can $1.43.

When all and shortening goes down salad dressings, margarine, etc. usually follow.

We now have an everyday low of 39¢ lb. on solid margarine; 45¢ on Naturus Best 4 stick pounds and IGA salad dressing at 99¢.

We received word from Pillsbury that some varieties of biscuits are going down. We have reduced them as of today. Other prices have gone down also.

Today you can buy dried beans for about 1/2 of what they were last year.

We also have a deal on Folger's coffee. For the next 30 days or so our everyday price on Folger's 1 lb. cans will be $1.19 on 10 ounces of instant it will be $1.99.

I wonder how many of you wonder why we do not run coupons.

We are in the business of selling groceries not papers and since not everyone takes the paper this causes them to have to buy one to get the special. Also some people don't need $5.00 or $7.50 or $10.00 in groceries at the time they want the special and others need more than one of an item.

Coupons are profit controllers. A merchant knows he is going to have at least so many dollars in sales before he accepts a coupon. Also many times he will buy enough extra papers to carry the stock he bought, send in the extra coupons collected and he has the product cheap than sells it at regular price. You can see who coupons really help. This is why we don't use them.

There are coupons that can save you several dollars per year though. Notice your Sunday paper, Reader's Digest and other magazines for manufacturers coupons.

Also many items have coupons in or on them good with purchase of another item. Save all them with your grocery list and carry ones on products you intend to buy each week. Please do not ask your merchant to accept coupons for products you do not buy. He wants to help you but this is against the law. Another way to save money on your food bill is to shop Jim Adams IGA the Low Price King. Remember we say no matter the price of one or two items, it's the total on the tape that counts.
